

THE FROG BURSTED ITS STOMACH

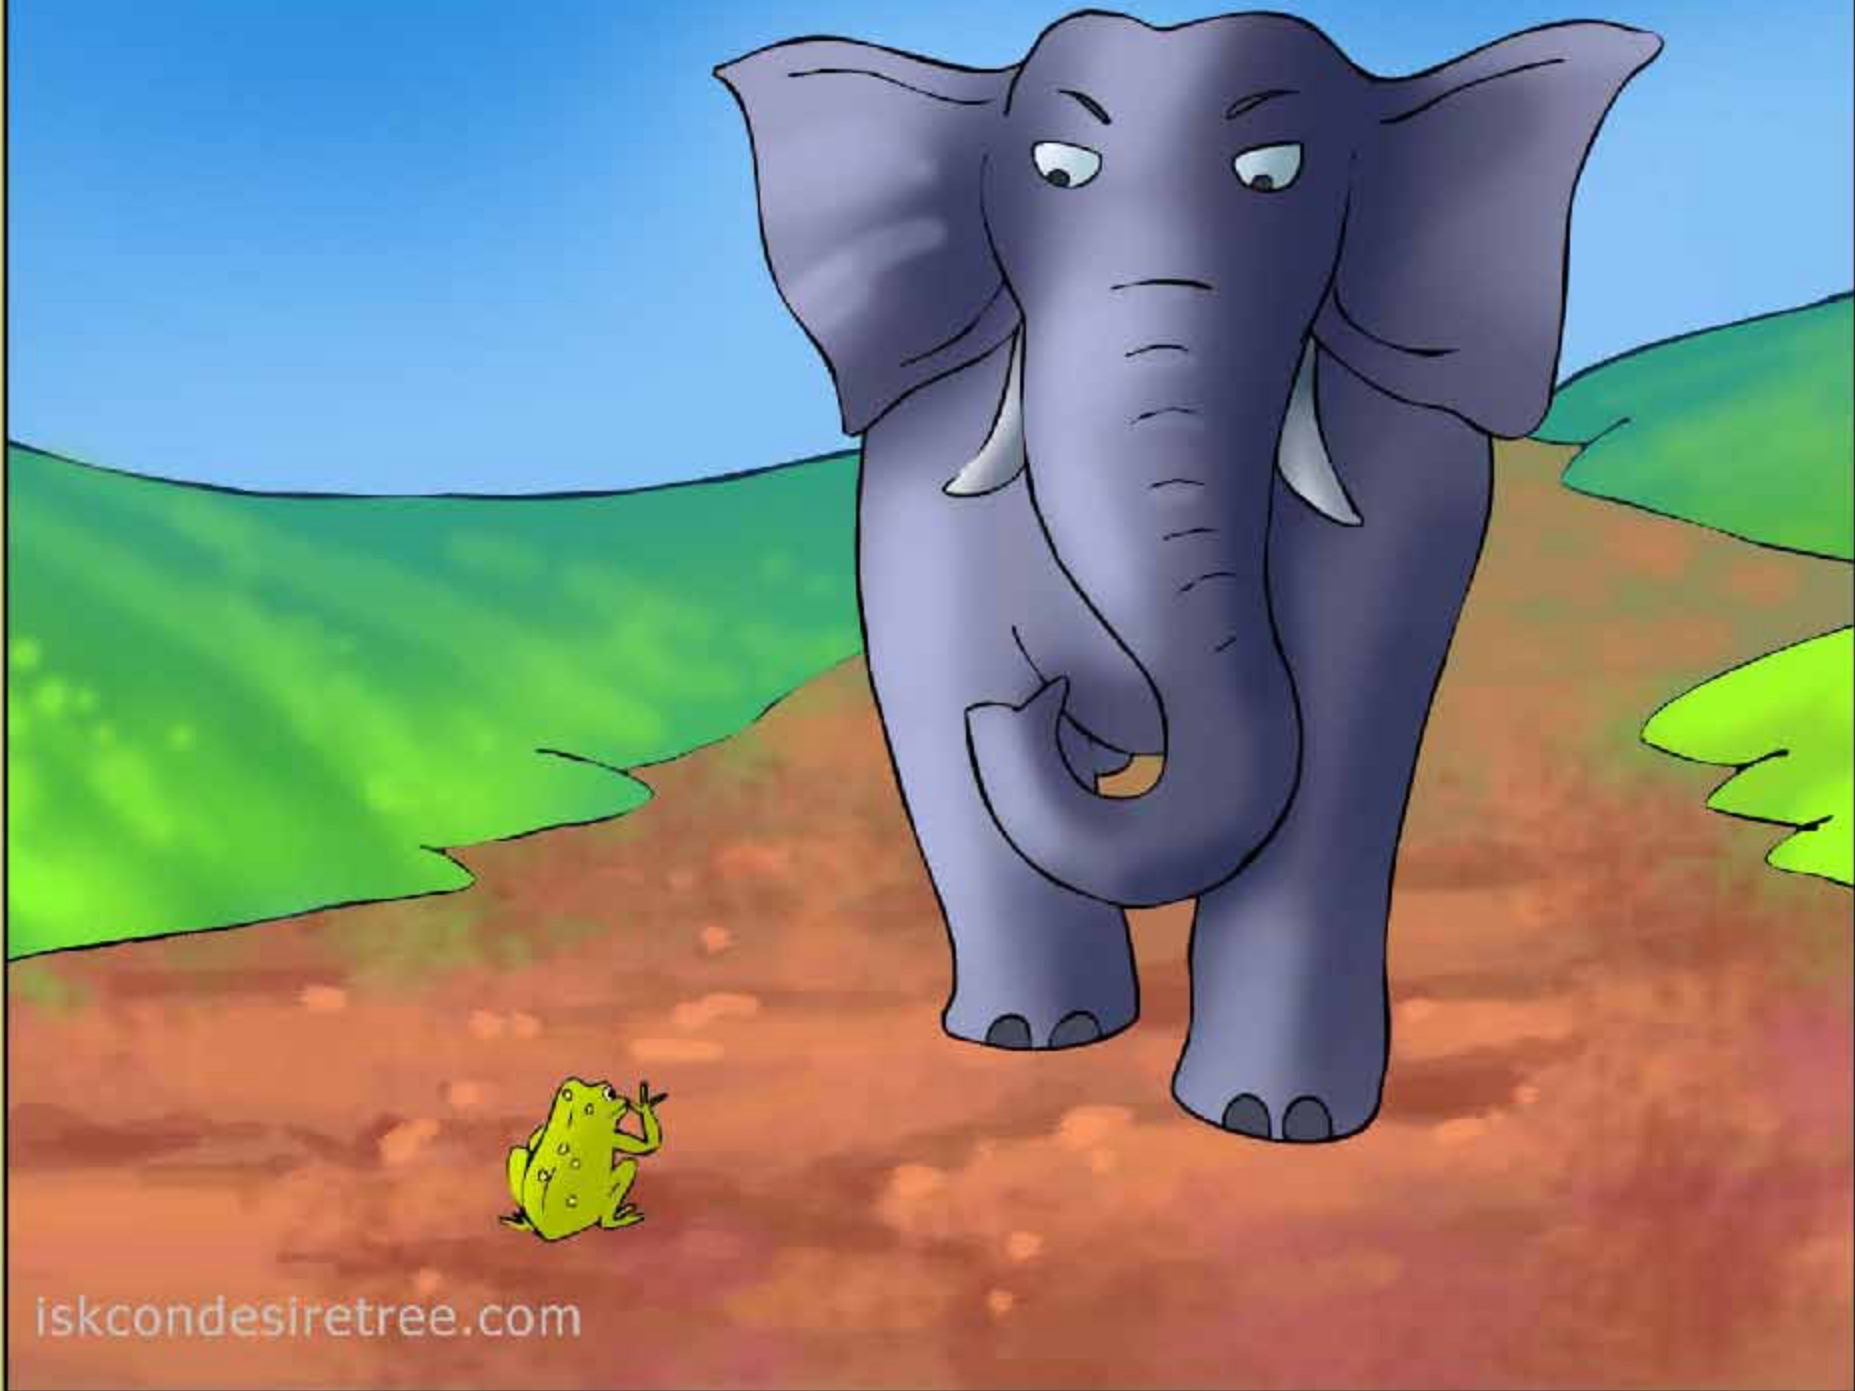

There was one lake. There were many frogs living in that lake

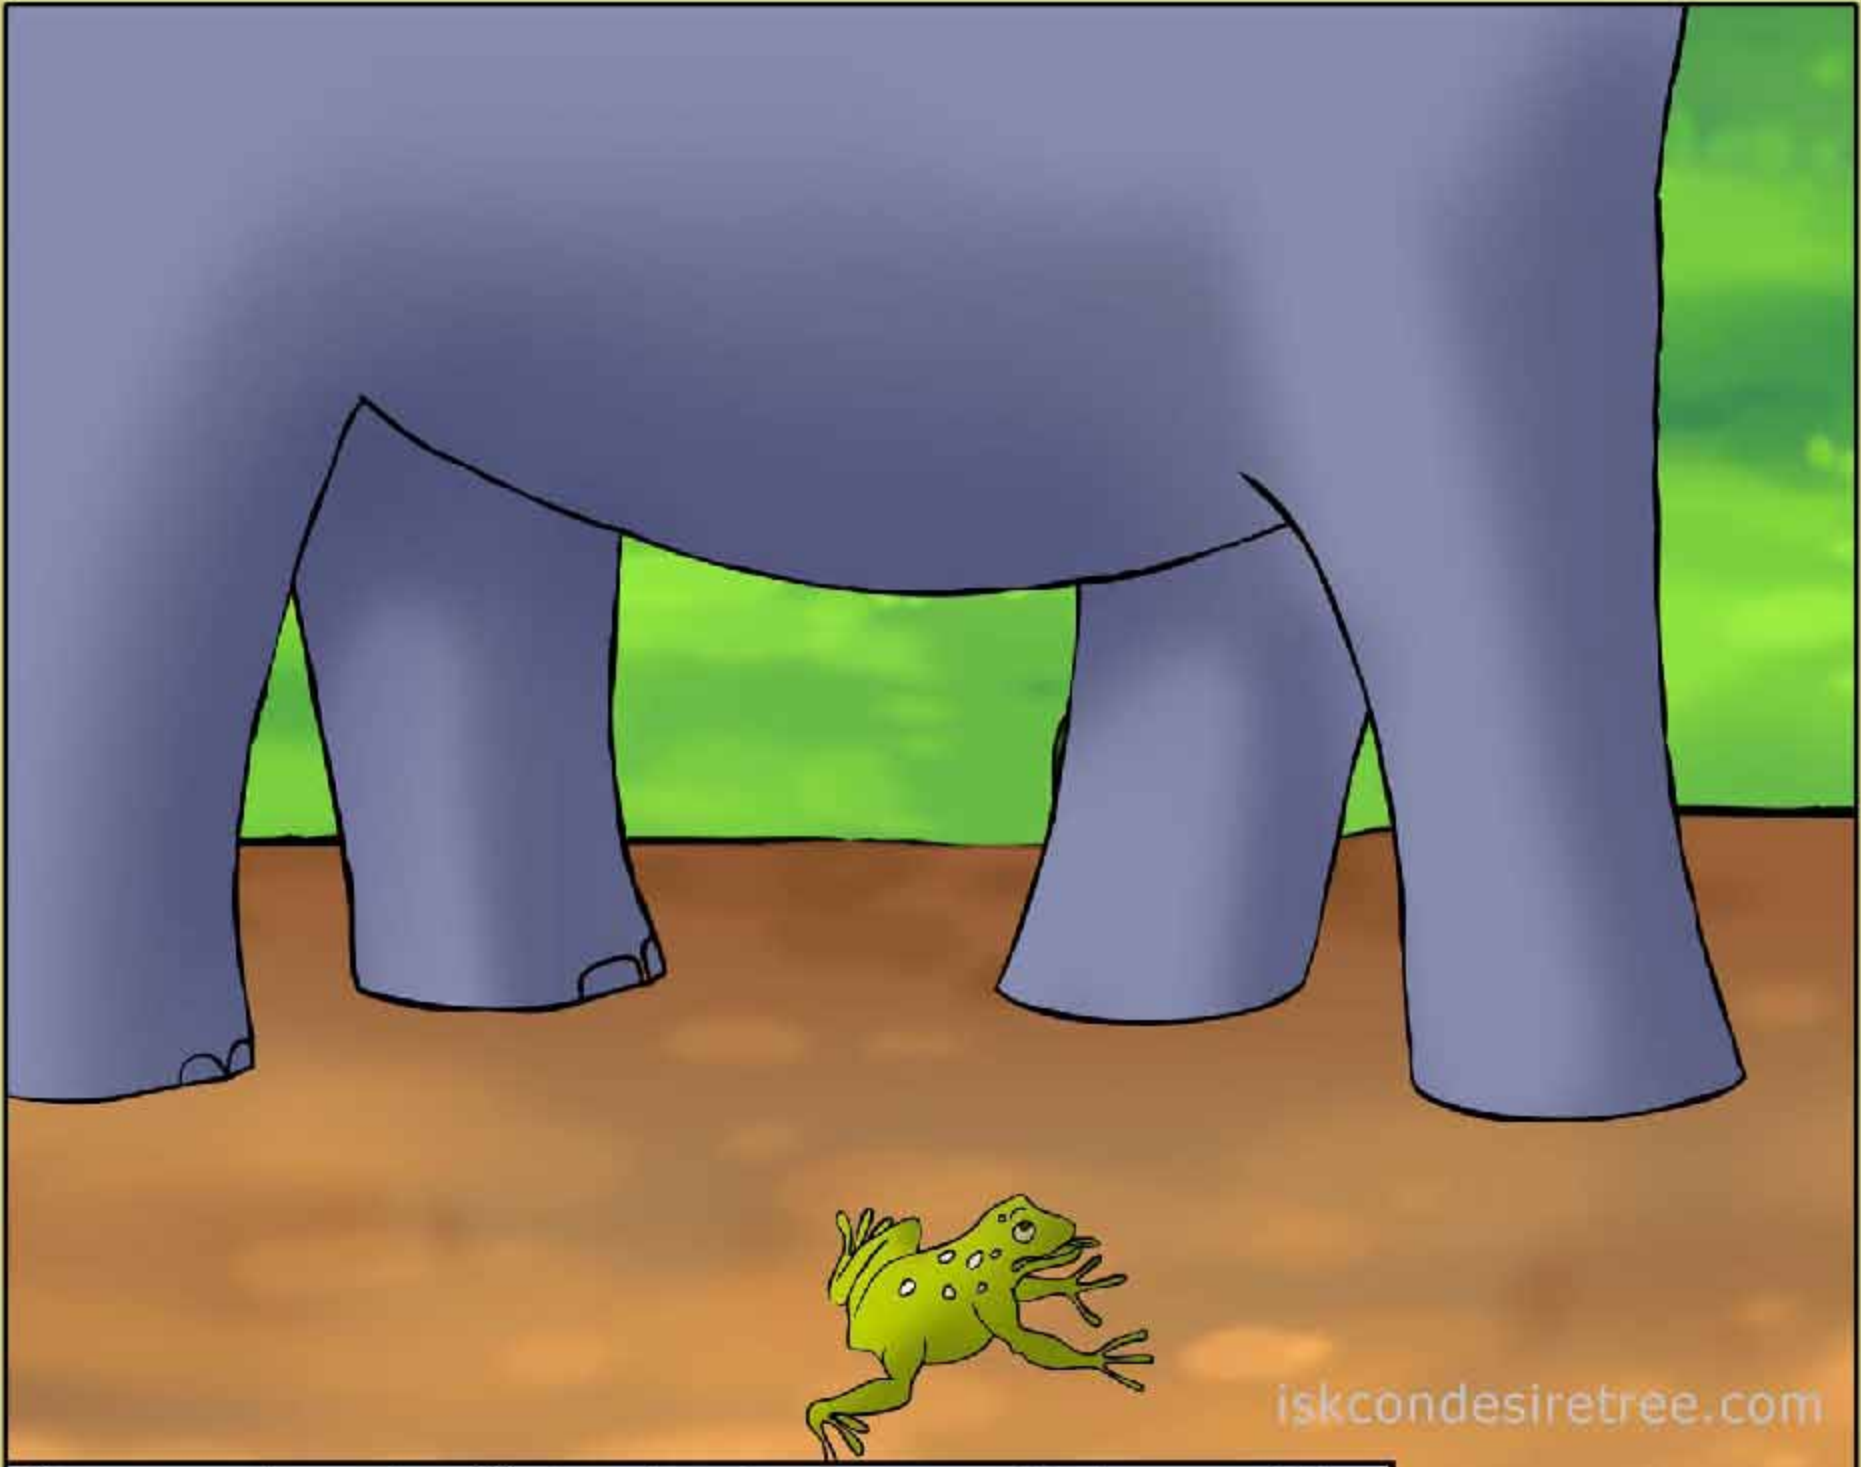

Amongst them was a proud female frog. One day, sitting on the bank of the lake, she was boasting about herself. Many younger frogs were hearing her

The proud female frog's kid while playing, leaping reached far away. There one elephant was approaching

The young frog raised its head and saw a very big tummy of the elephant. It was so frightened that it began to run for its life

It leaped, ran and hopped towards the lake. Seeing it in that condition, all the other frogs quickly leaped in the lake

For sometime everything was quiet. Then some frogs came to the shore. The proud female frog asked her kid.....

Why are you running? And why did you frightened all other frogs?

Today, i saw an animal which was like a mountain....

It spread its leg and said....

His stomach was this...big...this...big...!

The mother frog blew her stomach and asked...

So big? Was it this much?
Was it not?

No mother, it was much bigger

The mother frog blew her stomach to maximum and asked....

This much?

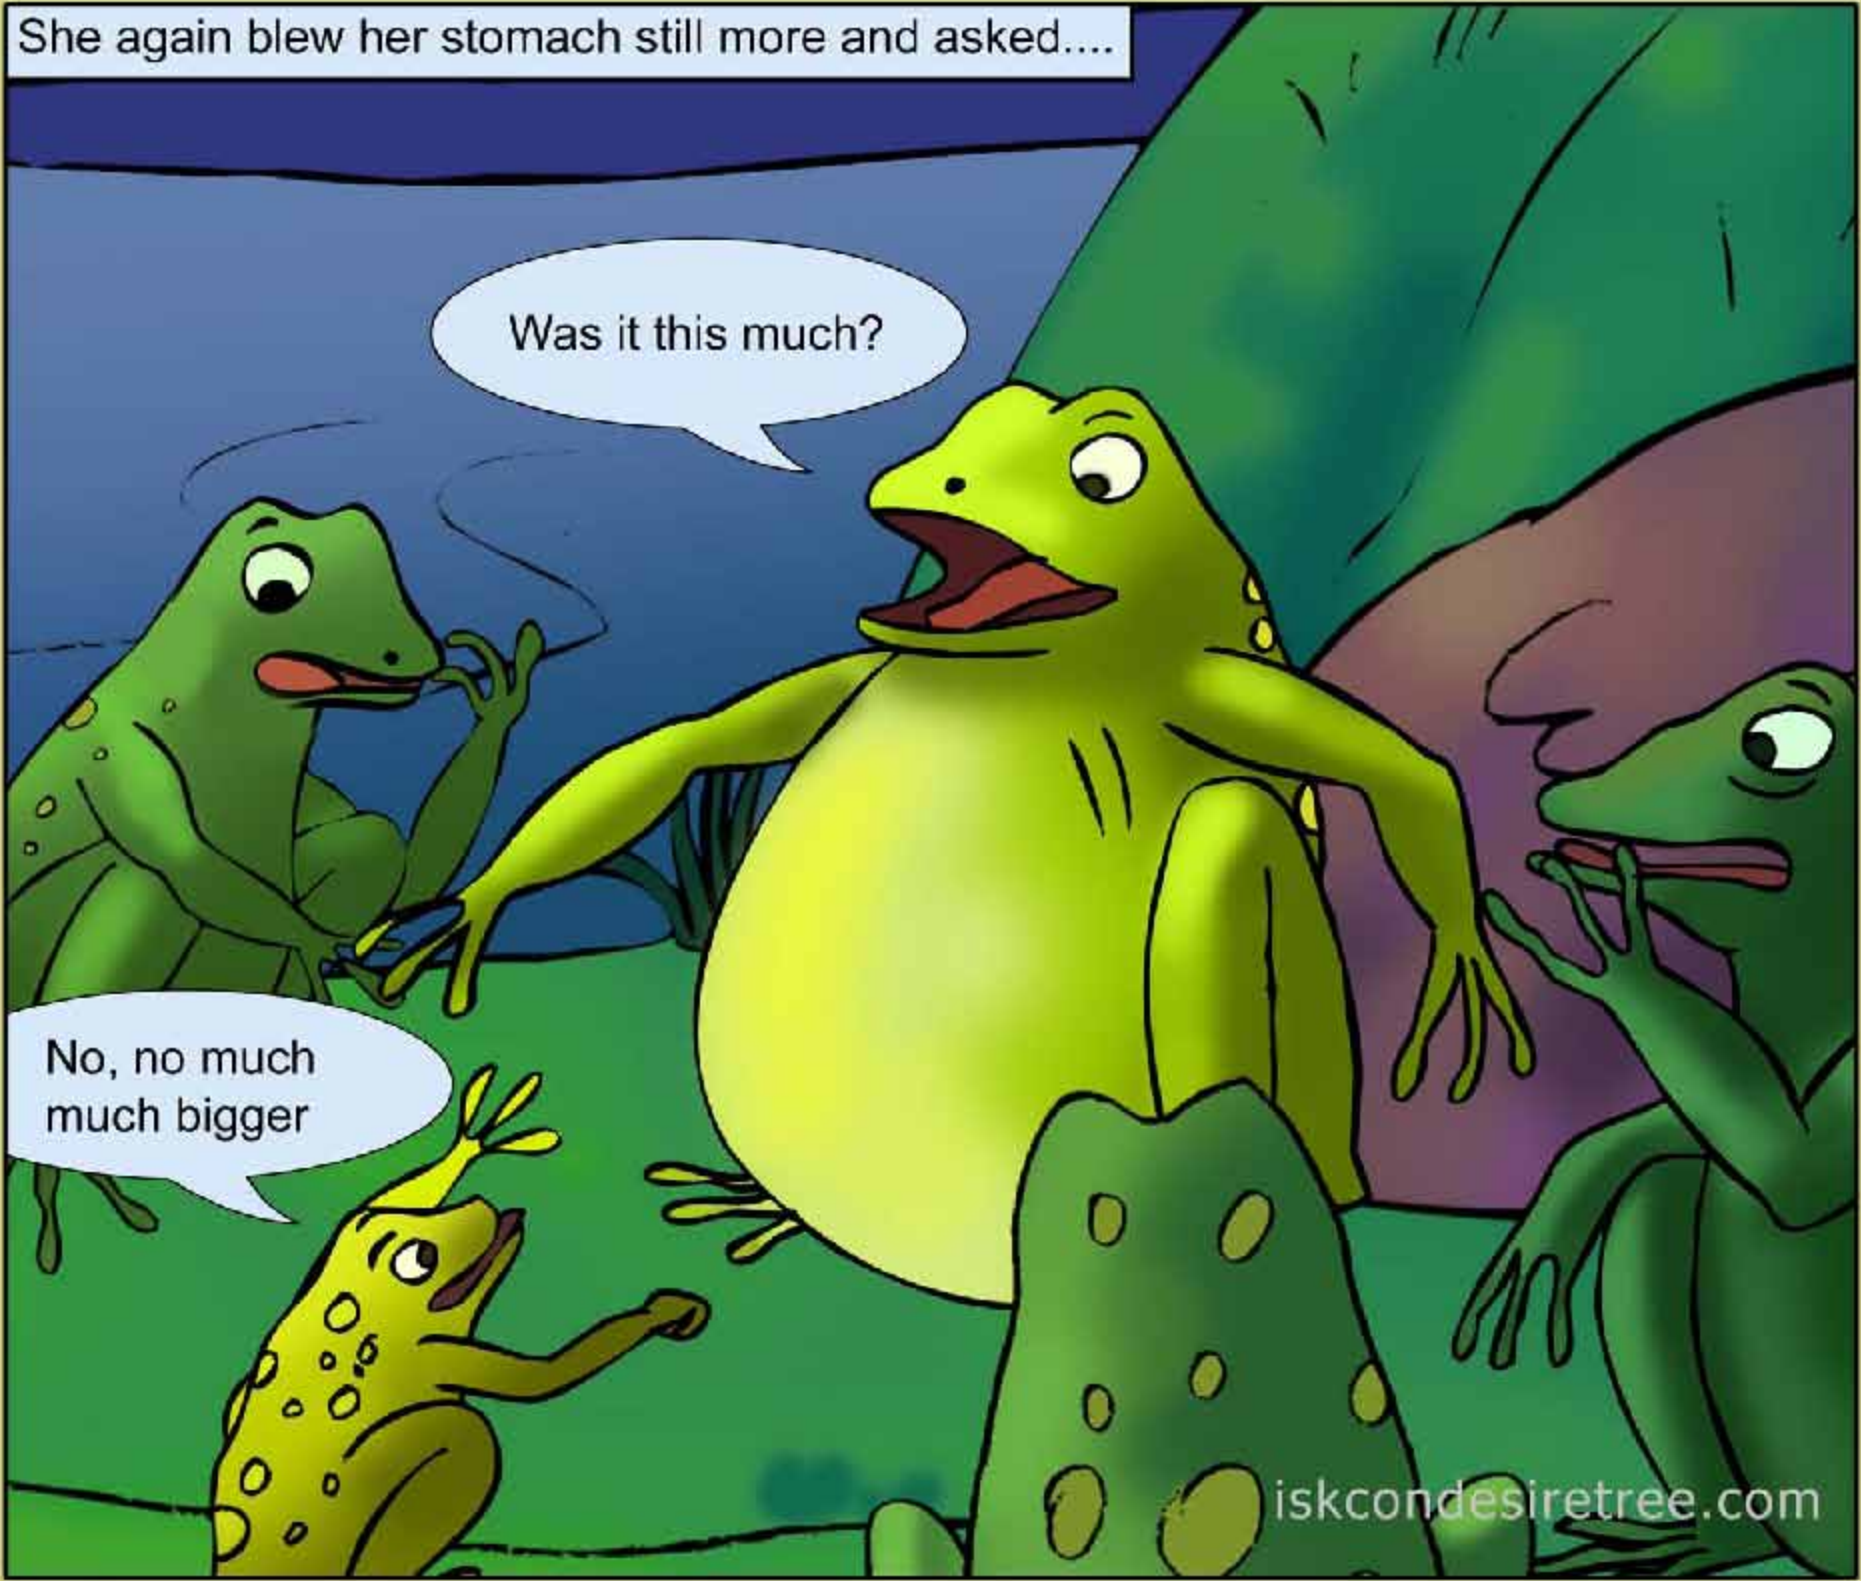

No mother it was much much bigger

She again blew her stomach still more and asked....

Was it this much?

No, no much much bigger

Seeing this an elderly frog advised....

This is enough. O mother of the kid,
do not blow your stomach more than that.
Otherwise it will burst like a balloon

O uncle, is my stomach a balloon that will burst?

I can still blow it more.
Look at this

Saying this, she kept inhaling more and more. She kept blowing her stomach

At the end, there was a loud noise. The stomach of that frog had burst. In this way the proud frog lost her life
