

SARGAL SINGH

This is a story about the death of Sargal Singh. Sargal Singh was very much loved by a merchant.

So when Sargal Singh died, the merchant shaved his head and wore dark clothes.

A man came into the merchant's shop

Who has died?

Sargal Singh has died

The visitor did not seem ignorant and so did not ask who Sargal Singh was

Other people in town began to follow, not wanting to appear ignorant.

When anyone asked who had died, they replied, "Sargal Sing has died"

Minister of the king saw so many citizens in mourning .

So the minister also wore dark clothes and shaved his head.

When the king saw this he asked his minister.....

Why are you mourning,
and for whom?

Sargal Singh

Who is that?

I don't know

Go and find out

The minister then inquired and inquired and finally reached the merchant.

Who is Sargal Singh?

A man with a shaved head, wearing a dark blue long-sleeved shirt, stands in a room. He is looking at a framed picture on the wall. The picture shows a grey donkey with large ears, looking forward, and is surrounded by a thick, light-colored garland. The man's right hand is raised towards the picture, and his left hand is near his chest. A speech bubble above him contains text.

Sargal Singh was my donkey, whom I loved very much

MORAL :

Blind following is condemned here.

- Srila Prabhupada