

Four Bulls
and
The Lion

There were four bulls who were good friends.
They used to hang around and graze together.

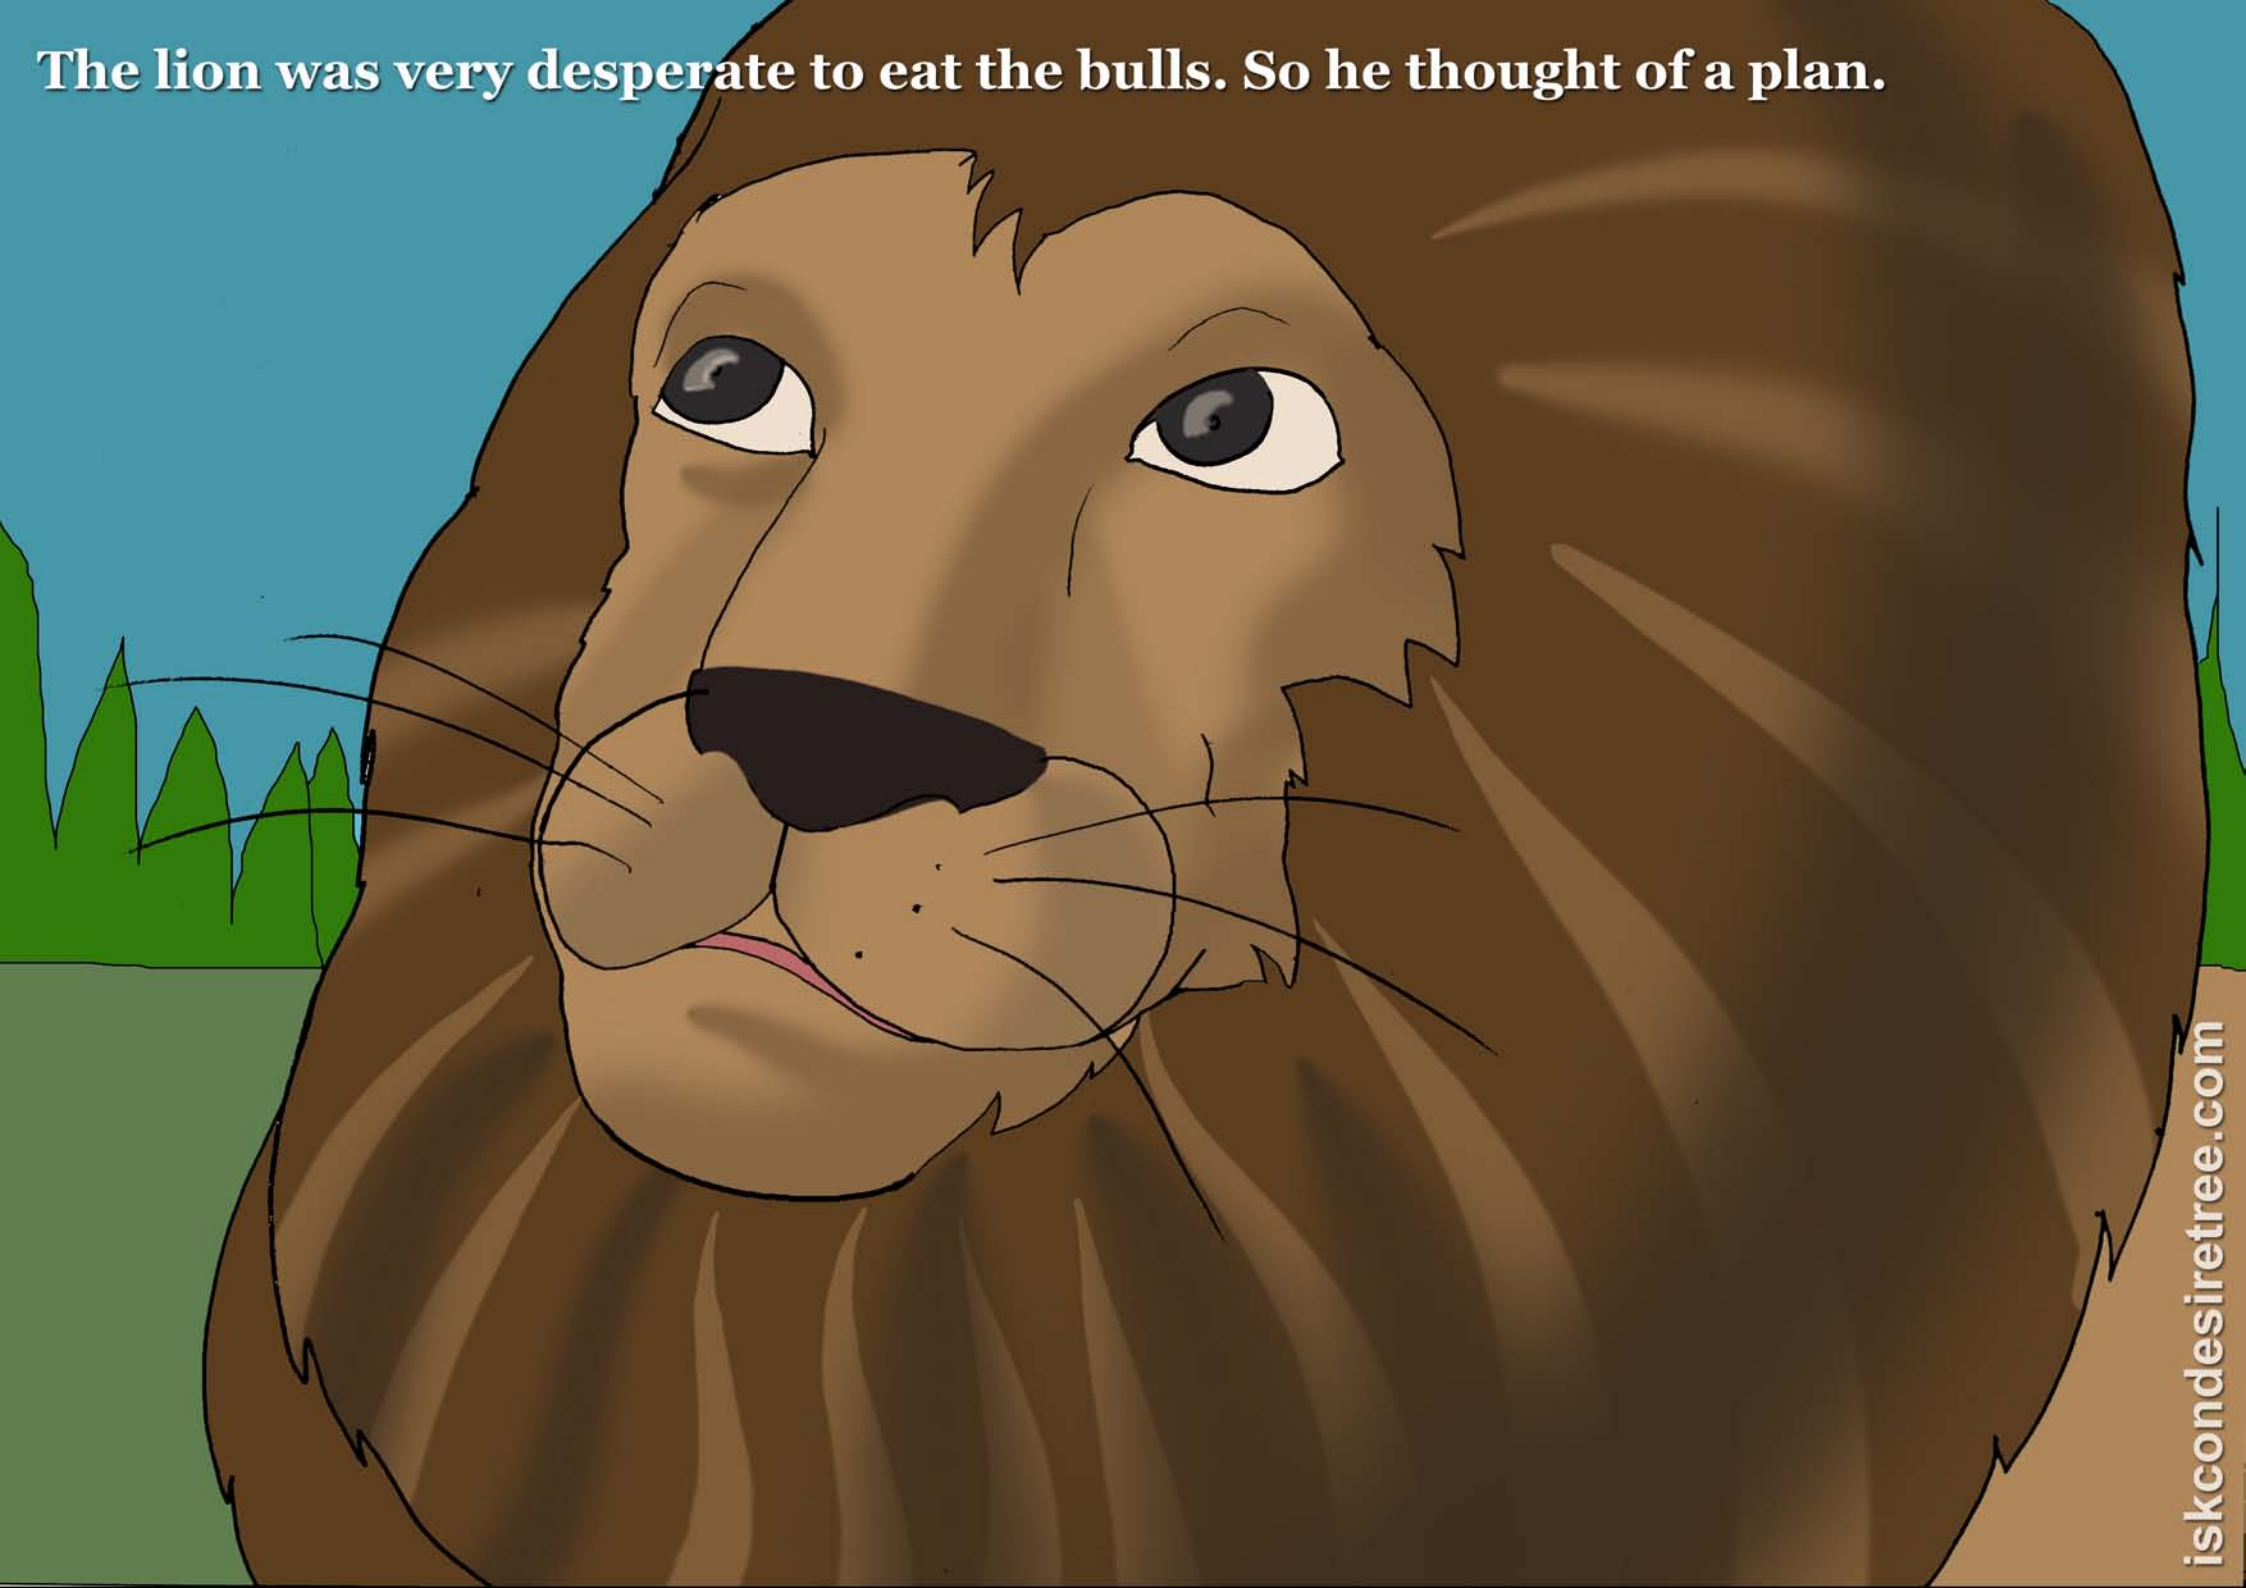

A lion used to keep an eye on them. They were his next prey.

The lion knew he couldn't risk his life by attacking them in group.

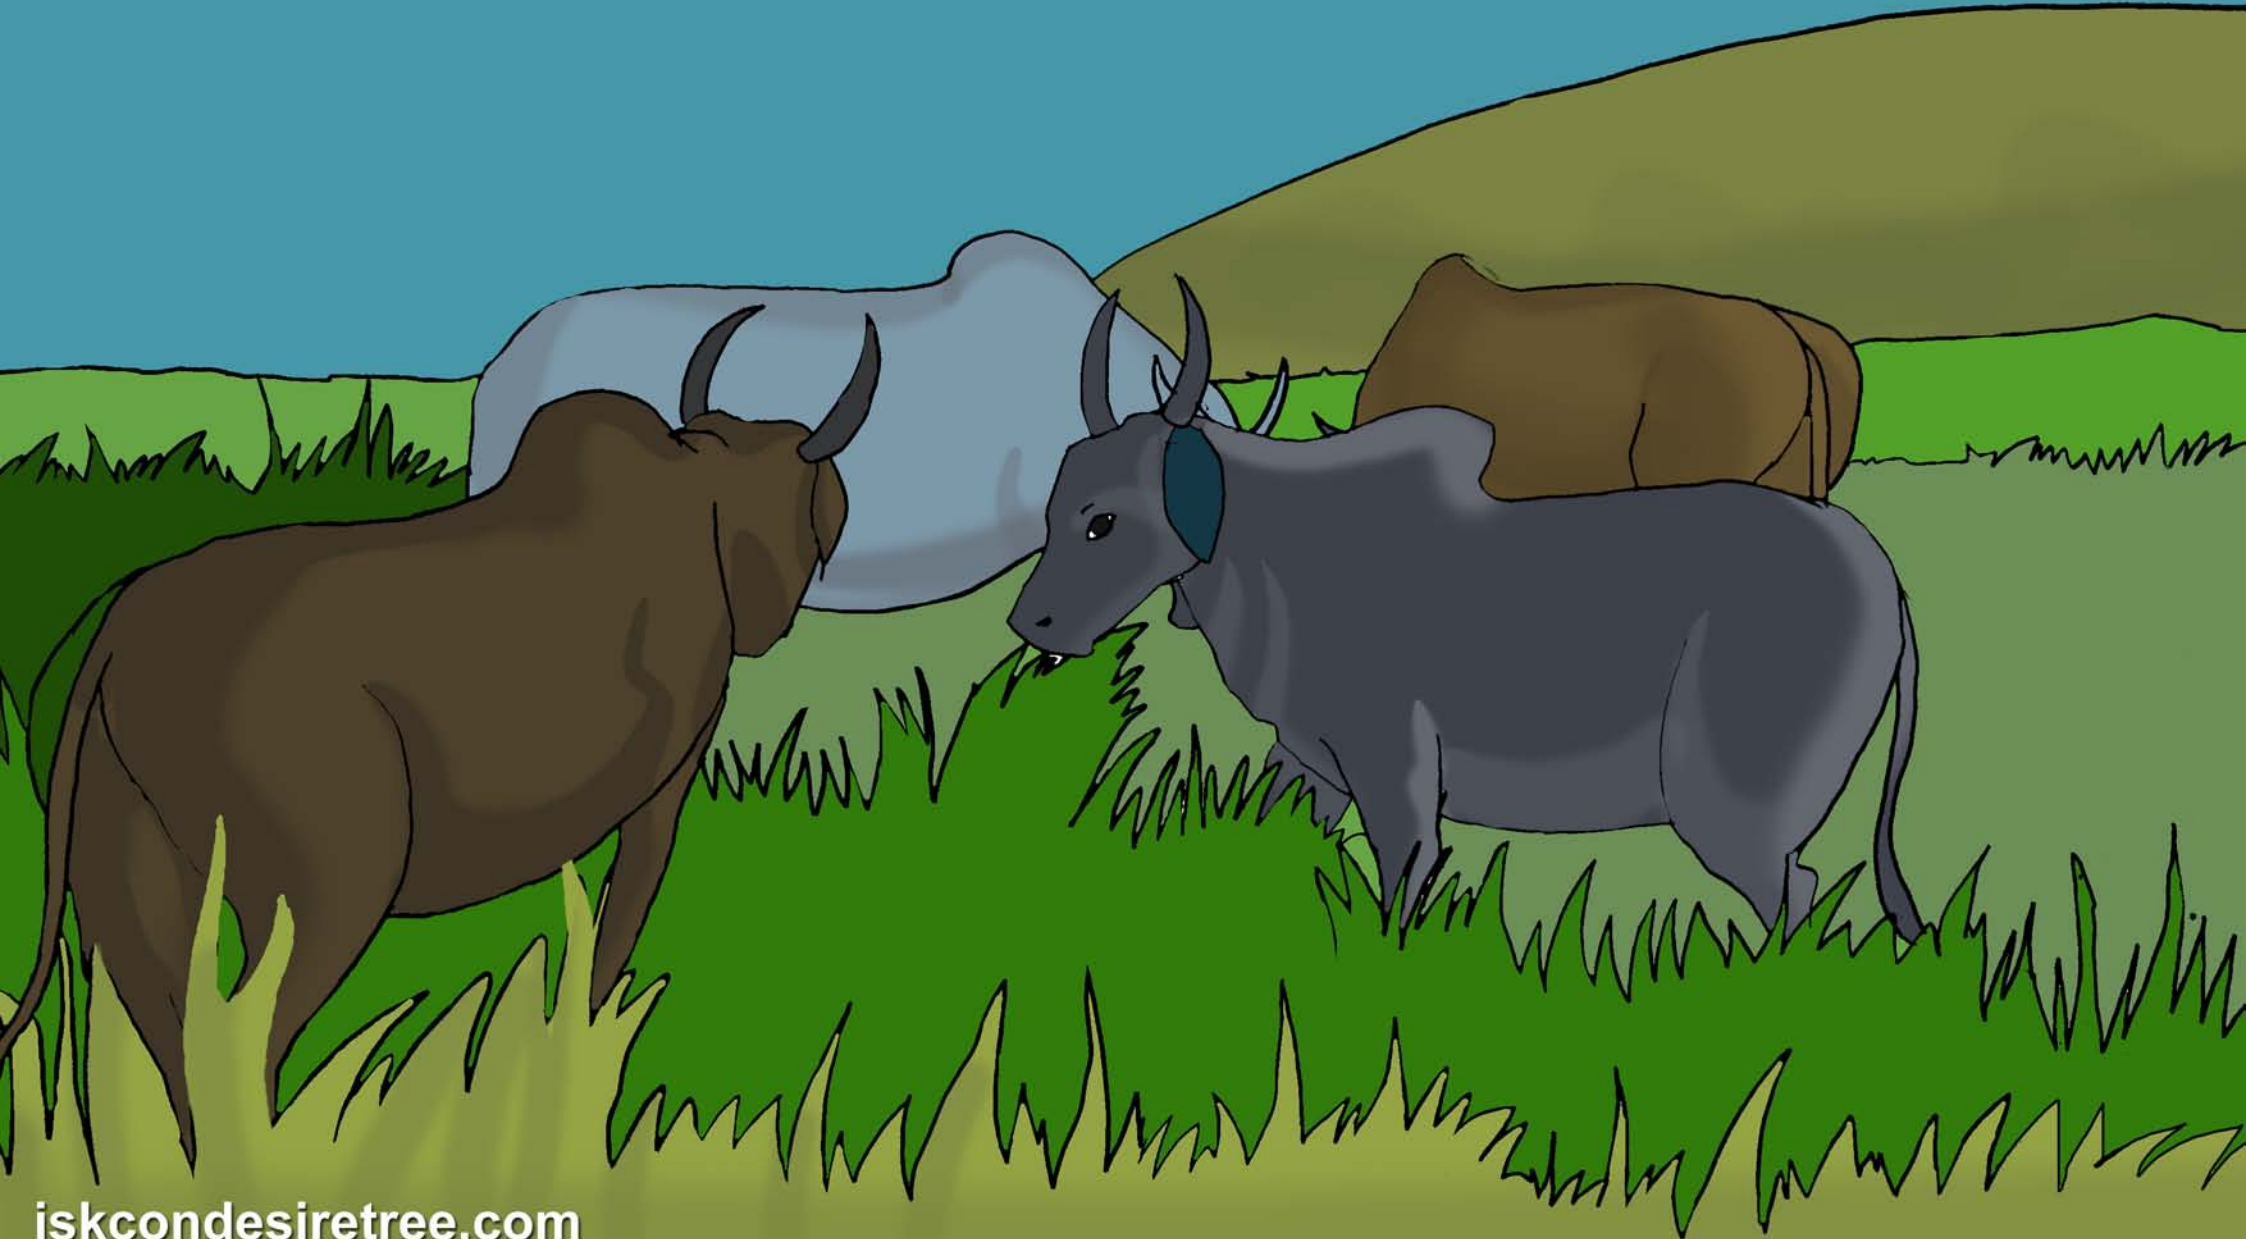

The lion was very desperate to eat the bulls. So he thought of a plan.

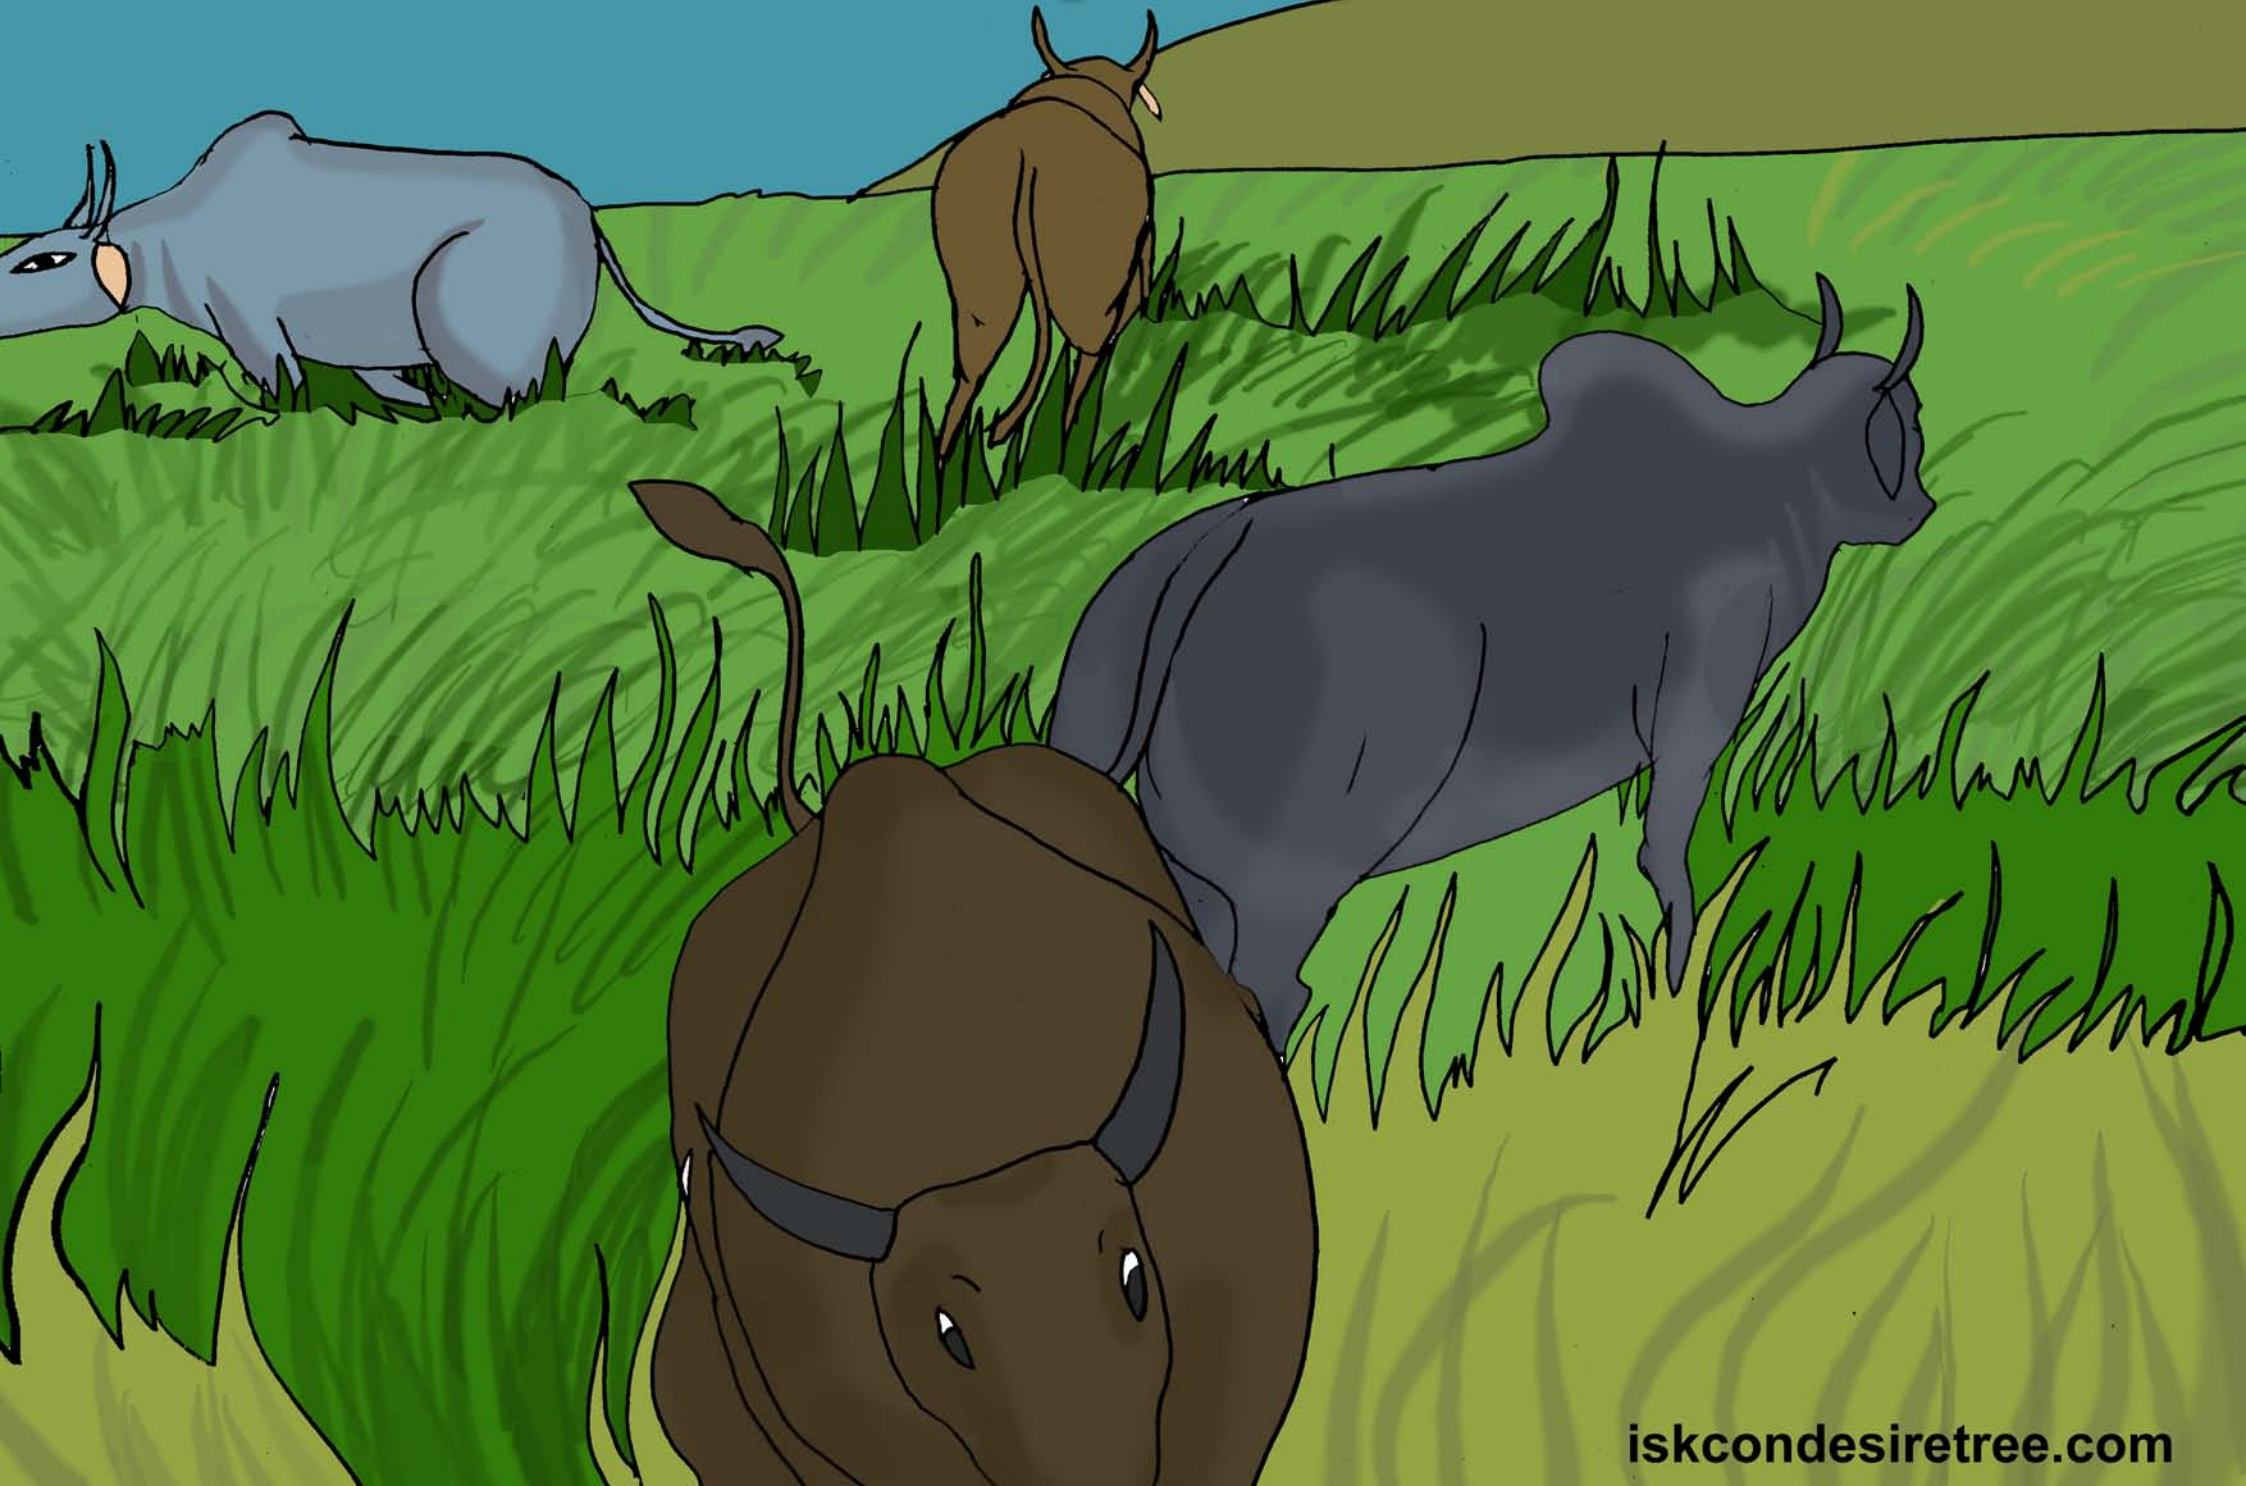

He started spreading unkind rumours about the bulls and he did that in such a way as if the bulls were themselves speaking ill about each other.

The bulls heard the rumours and were affected by that.

The bulls lost faith in each other and parted ways.

What else the lion could ask for!
He killed and ate them one by one.

MORAL :

Never get affected by rumors.

The devotees should stay together so that we don't fall prey to maya.
