

Krishna's Headache

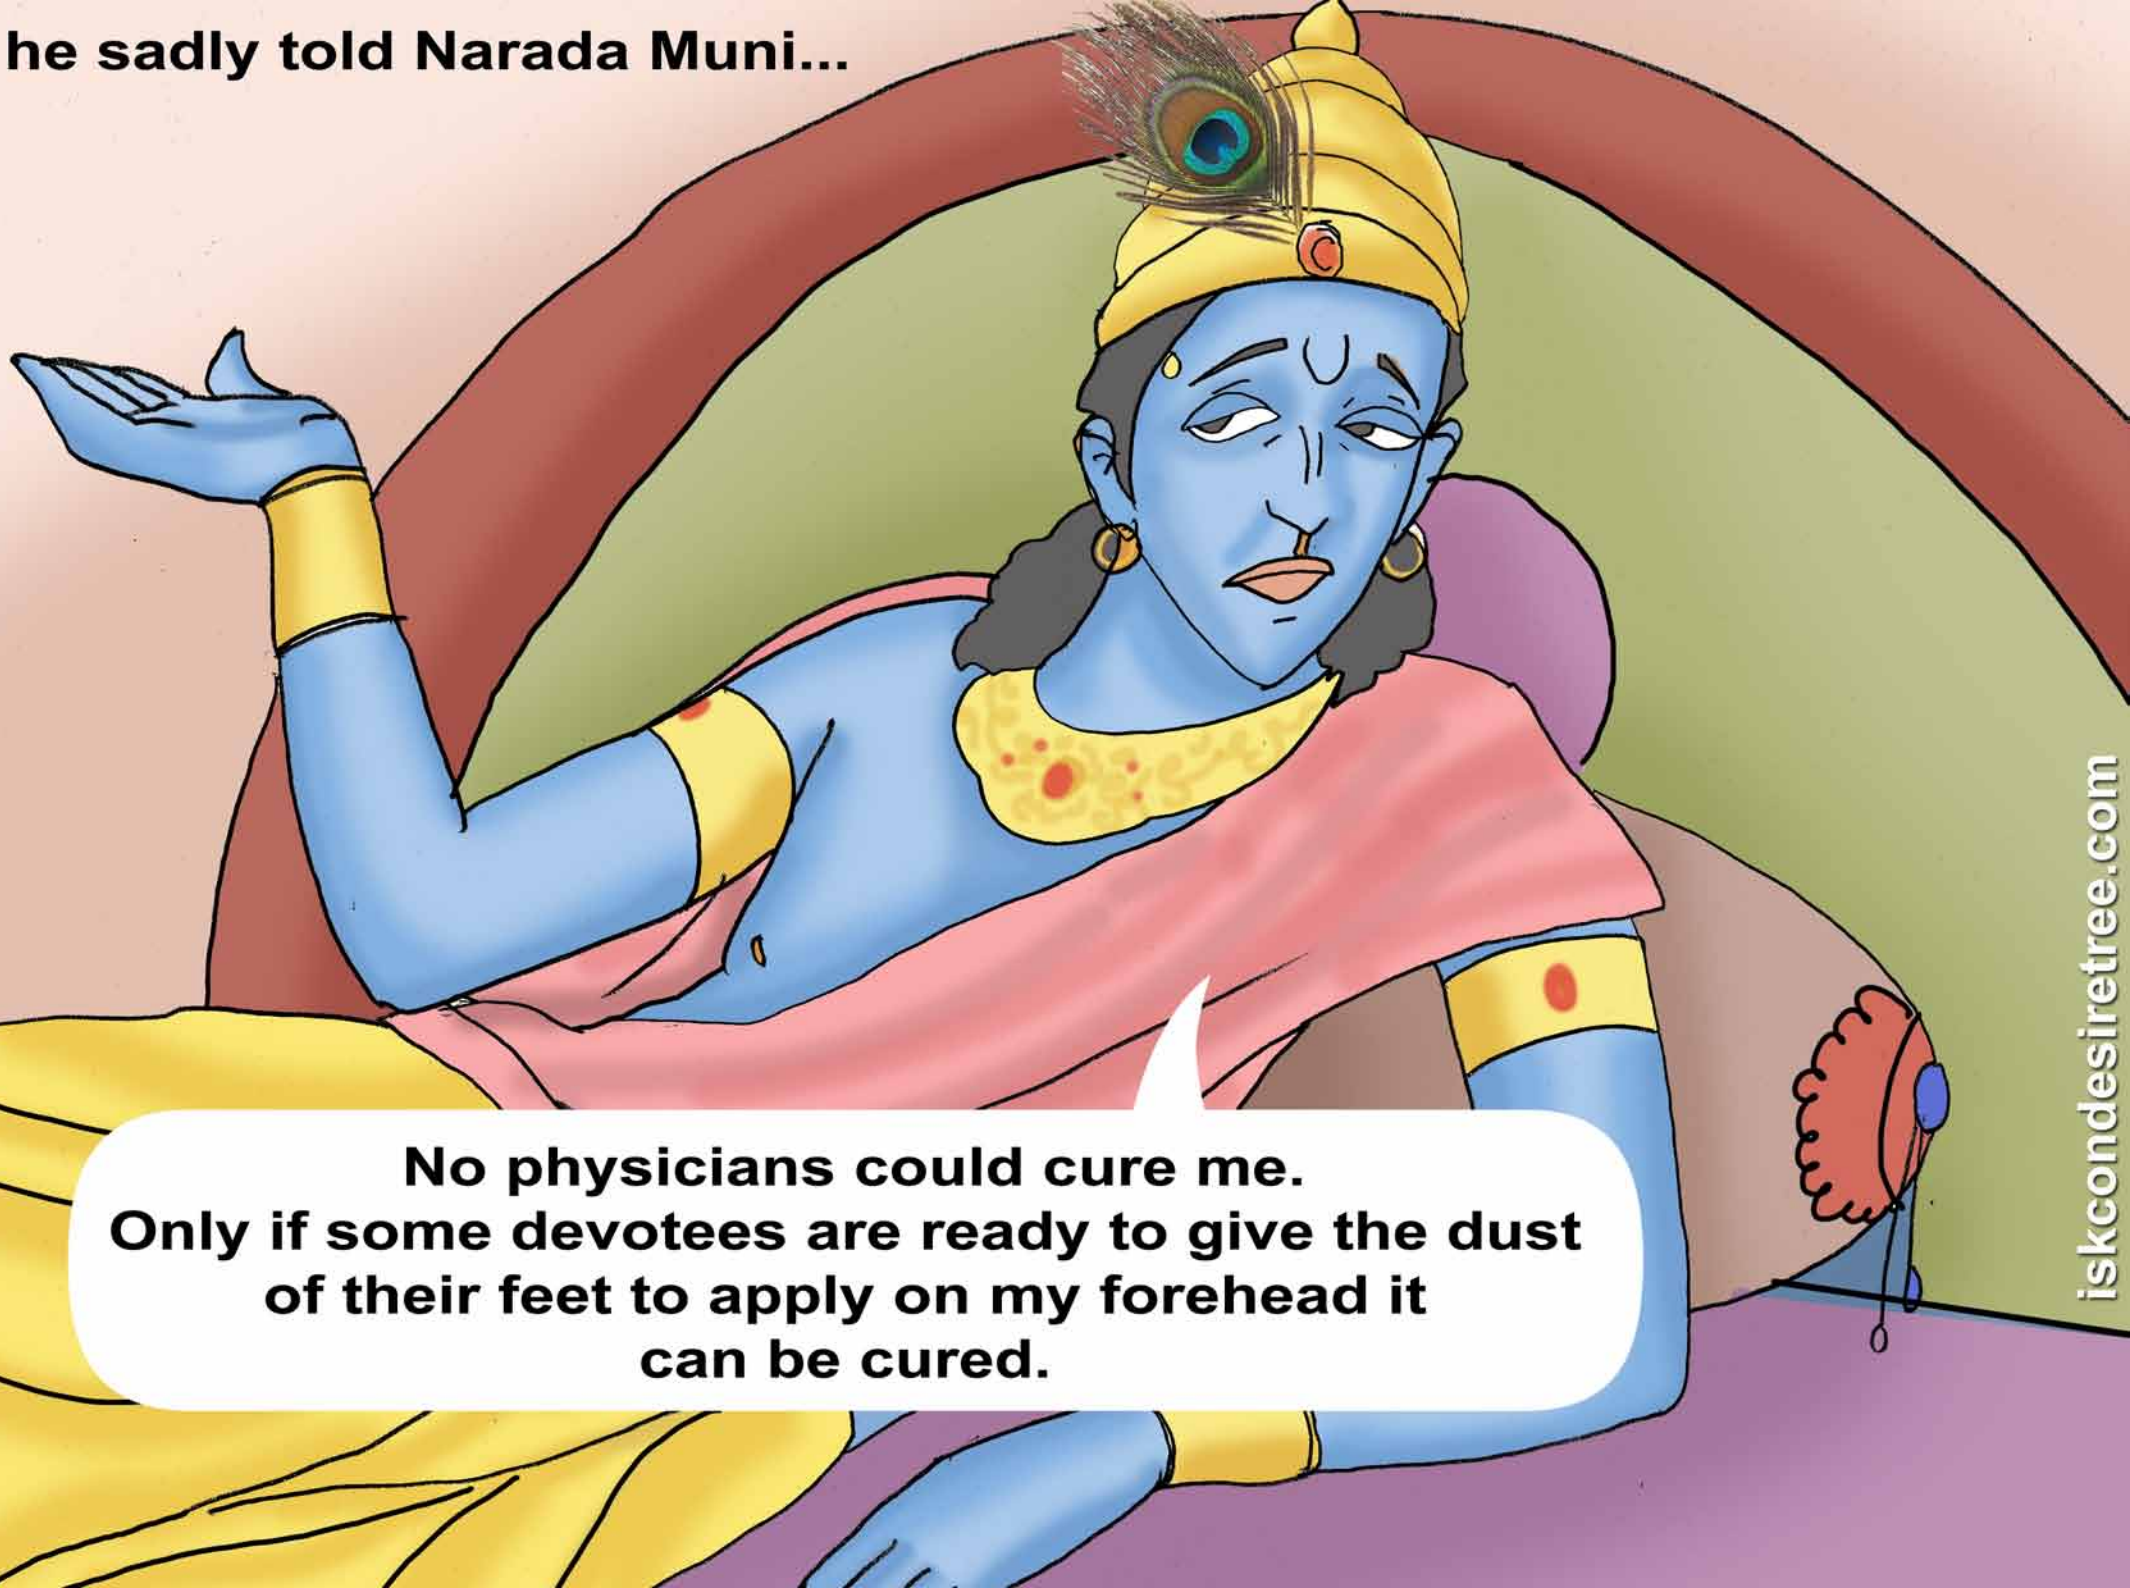

Once Lord Krishna was lying on the bed and pretended that he had a very severe headache.

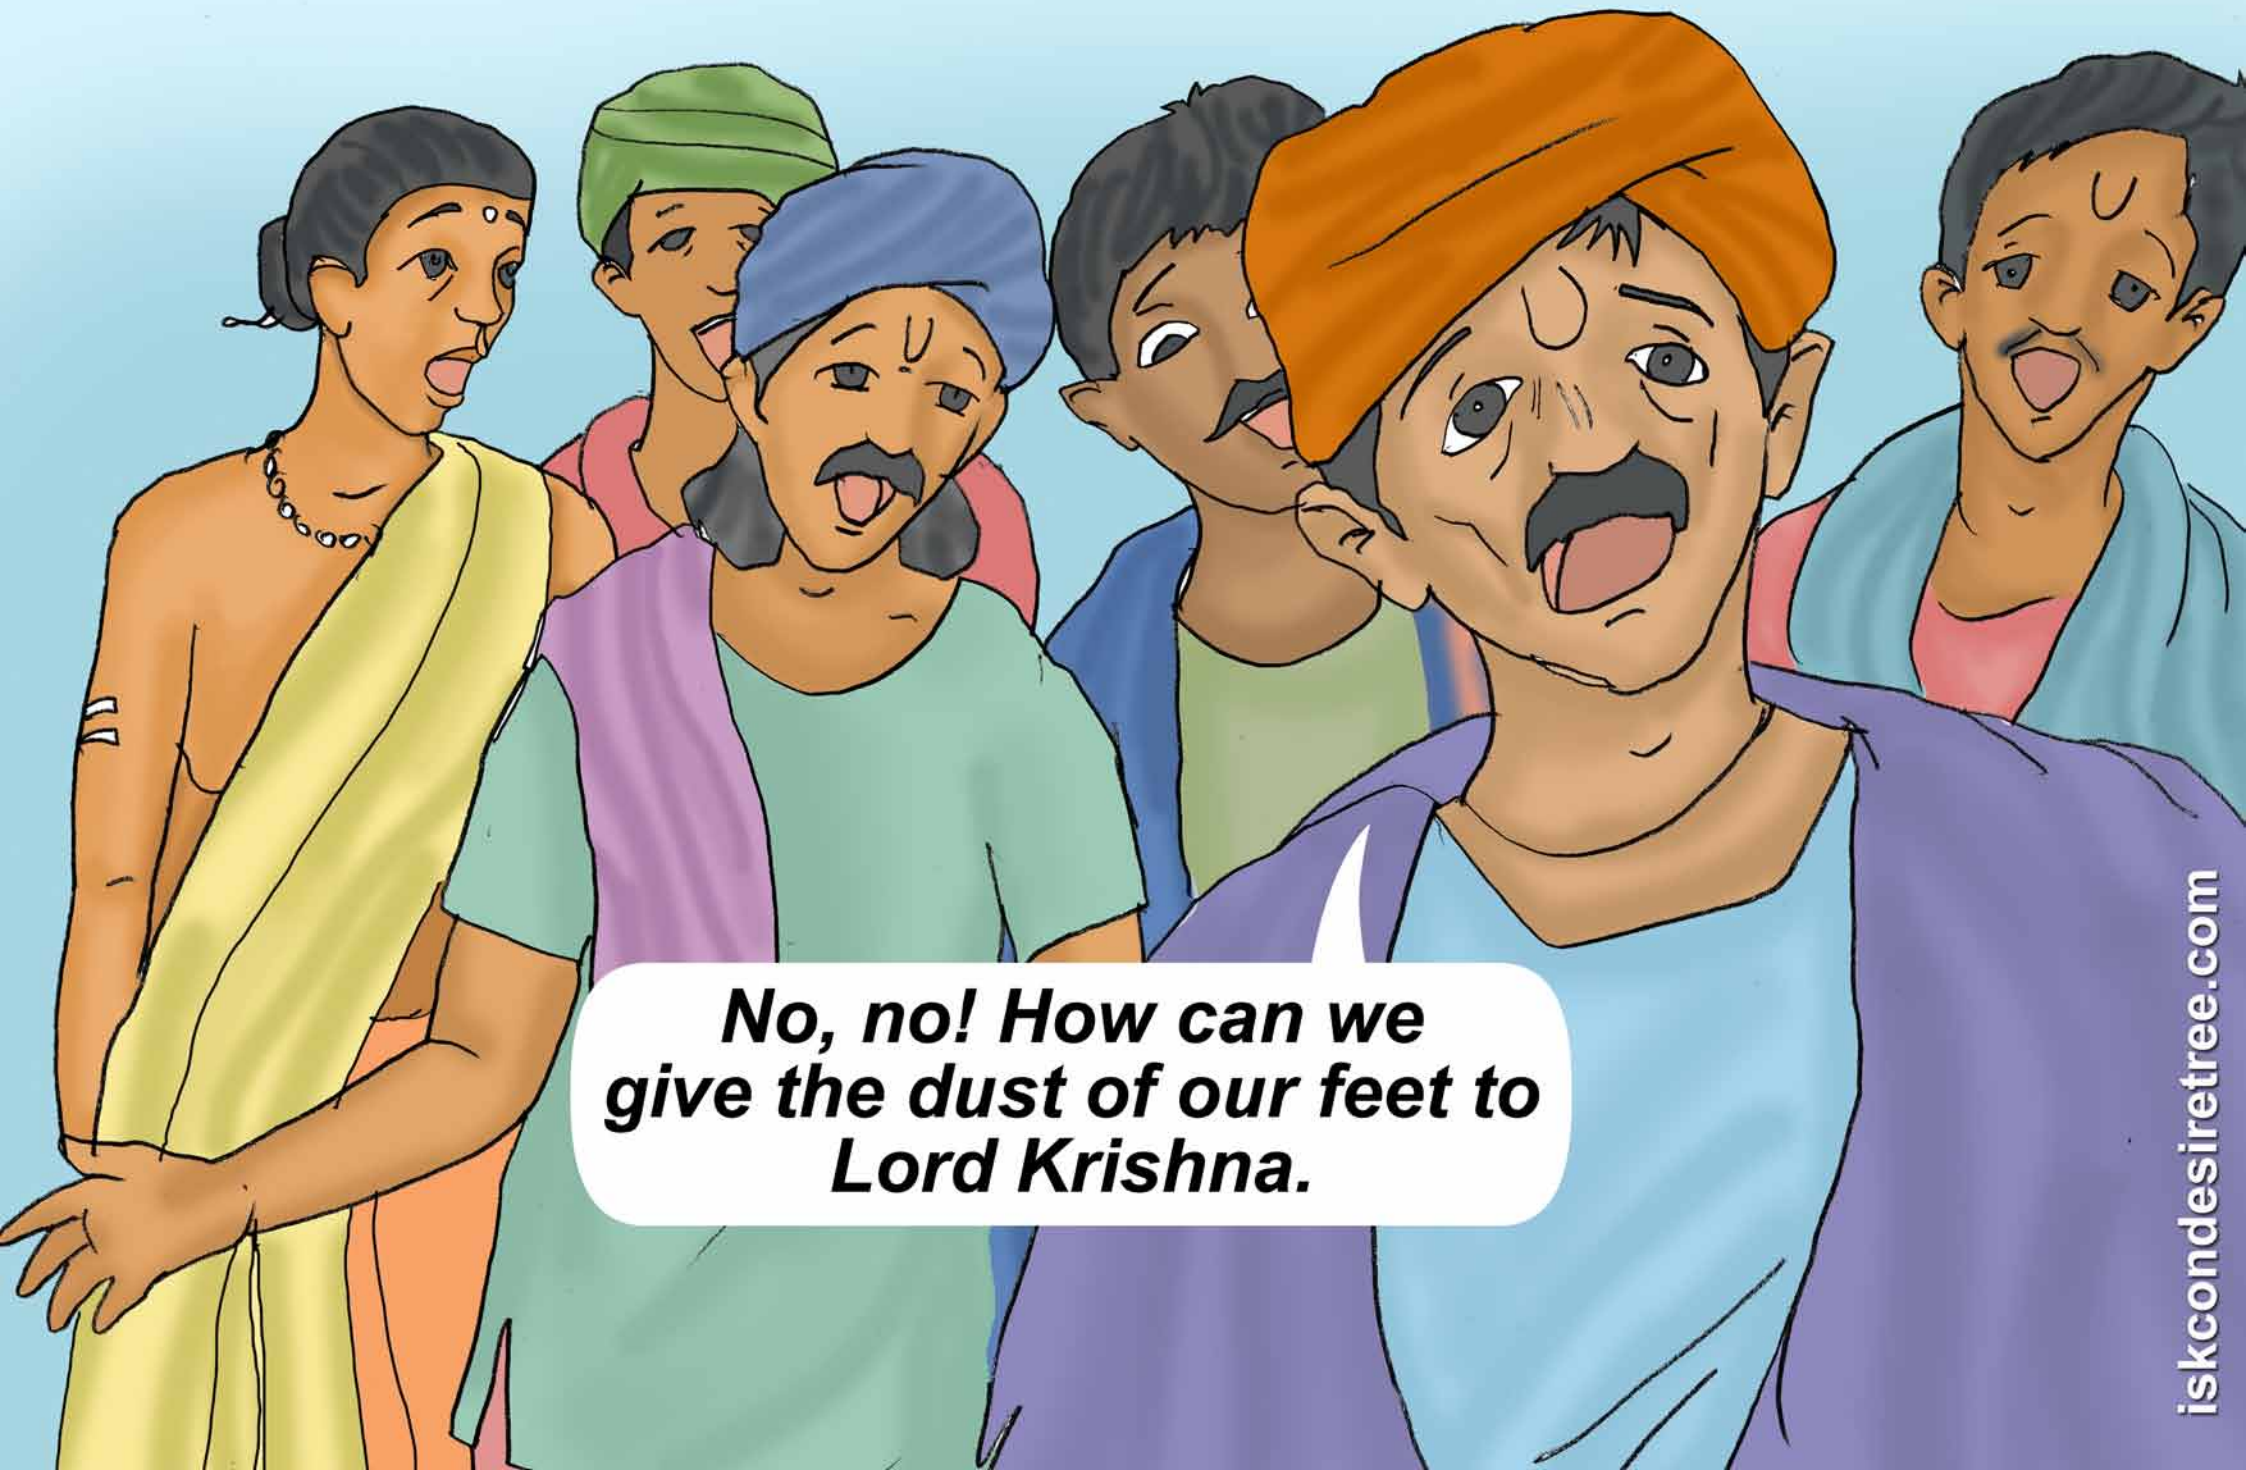

Many royal physicians came and gave medications but nothing helped Lord Krishna.

So he sadly told Narada Muni...

No physicians could cure me.
Only if some devotees are ready to give the dust
of their feet to apply on my forehead it can be cured.

When Narada Muni went to the devotees, they denied saying....

No, no! How can we give the dust of our feet to Lord Krishna.

If we give the dust of our feet to Lord Krishna, we will go to hell.
No, we cannot do that.

So, Narada Muni reported the incident to Krishna. Hearing it, Lord Krishna said...

Oh! No one is ready to give the dust.
Then go to Vrindavan and ask the Gopis.
They are my best devotees.

On Lord Krishna's order, Narada Muni went to the Gopis...

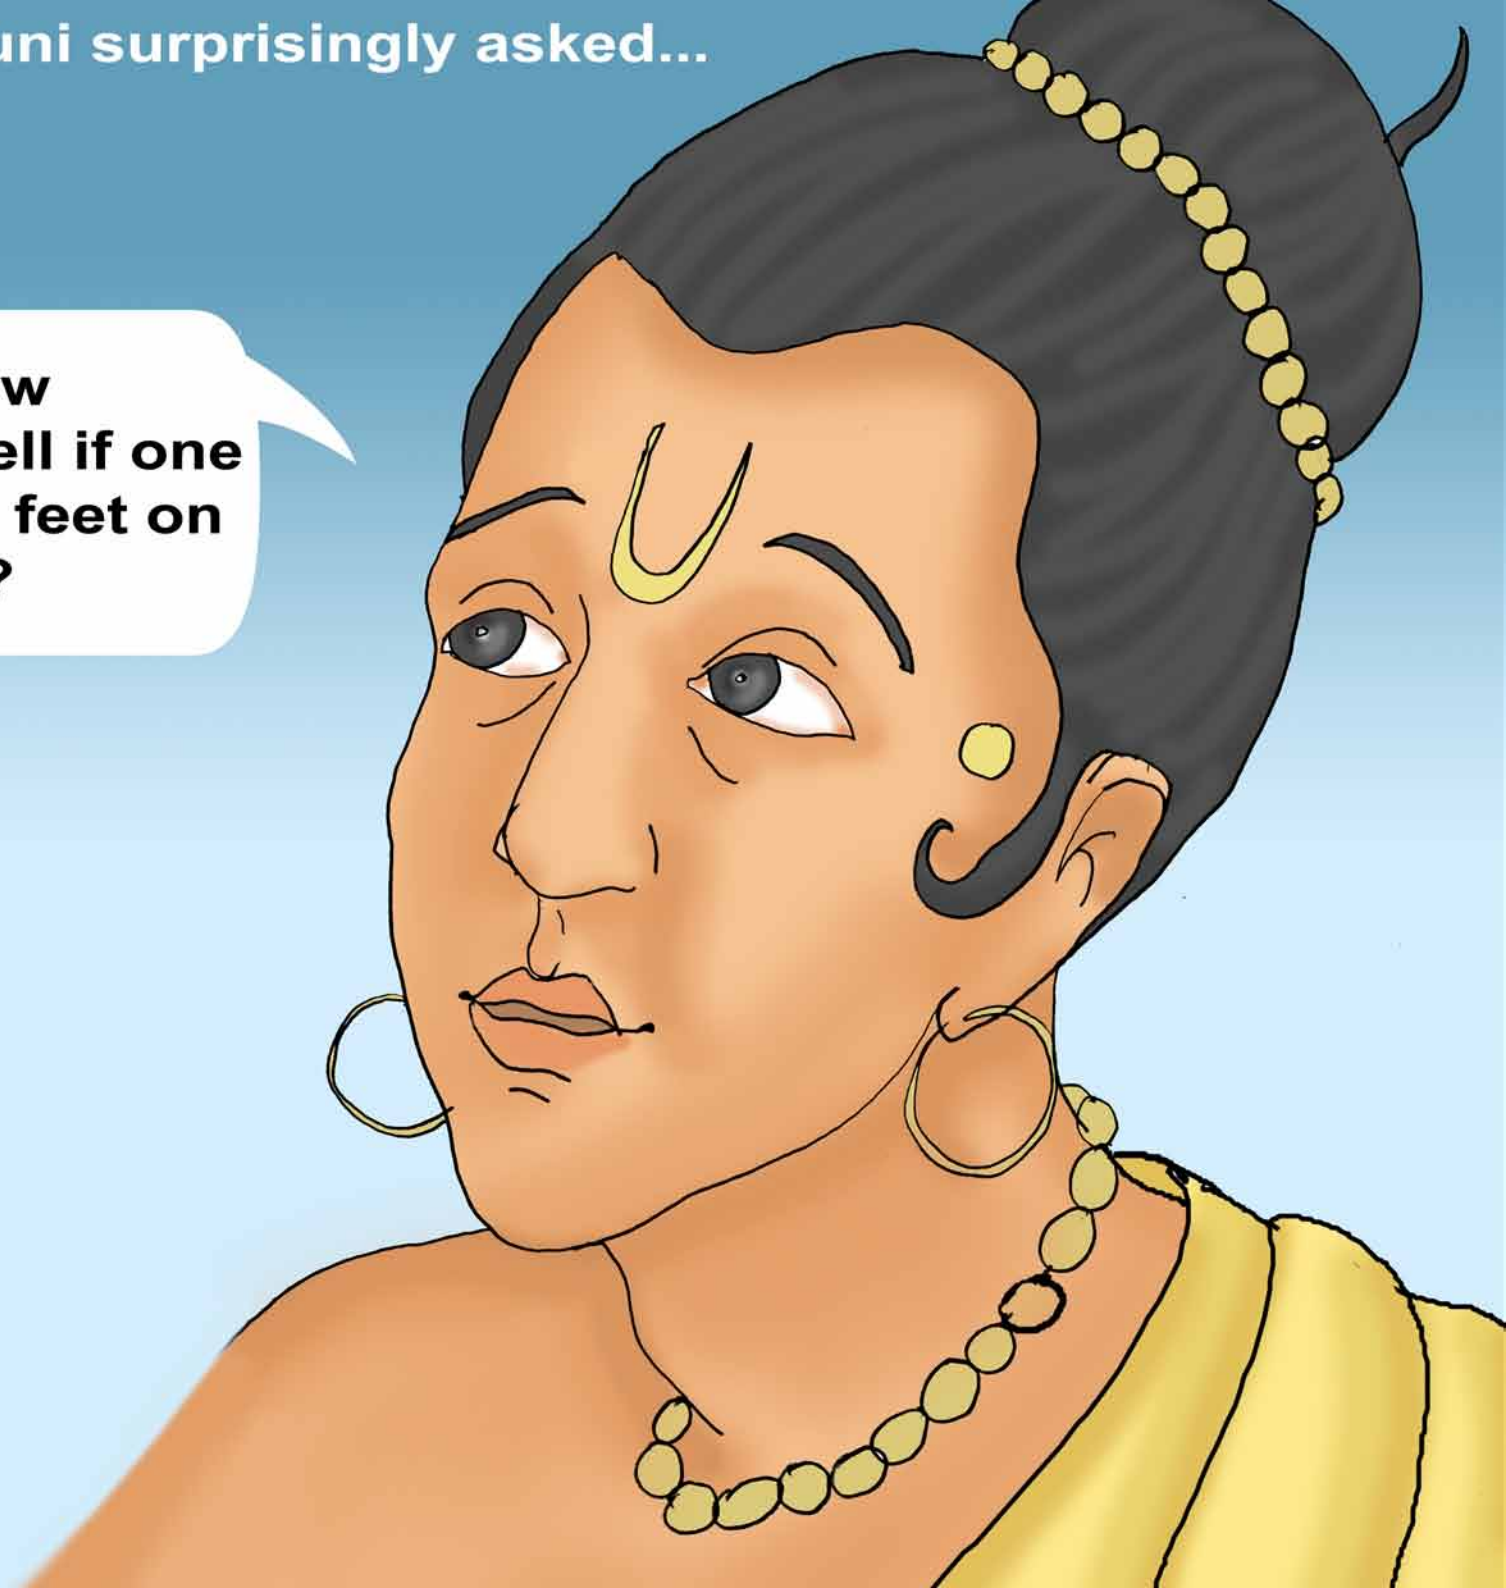

Oh Gopis! Krishna is having a very bad headache and he is asking the dust of your feet to apply on his forehead.

What? Our Krishna is having a headache? How sad! And he wants the dust of our feet? Please take, please take, take as much as you want.

Hearing this, Narada Muni surprisingly asked...

Don't you know
that one will go to hell if one puts the dust of the feet on Lord's body?

The Gopis humbly replied...

We are ready to go to hell,
if that's what will bring relief to Lord Krishna
from the headache.

MORAL :

Pure devotion with the only desire to satisfy and serve the Lord is the essence of Bhakti yoga.
