

The Himalaya's give Birth

Once in a village near the Himalayas...

Hey! the world famous Himalayas are going to produce offspring.

Wow! I will tell my friends about it. We should go and see this great event.

So in this way the news spread...

....and hundreds of people began gathering at the foothills of the mountains.

In anticipation, crowds waited...

Oh! I have heard that this world famous Himalayas are going to produce offsprings.

Yes I have also heard so. This is going to be most memorable event of my life.

And finally they saw hundreds of rats running from the mountains.

MORAL:

The great universities are meant to create great people. But, if those people are unable to see God, Krishna as the center of everything, they would be like the offspring of the Himalayan mountains.
