

THE HORSE BECOMES A SLAVE

There was one horse. There was very green, tender and soft grass where he was residing. He would graze it sufficiently. He would roam and live happily

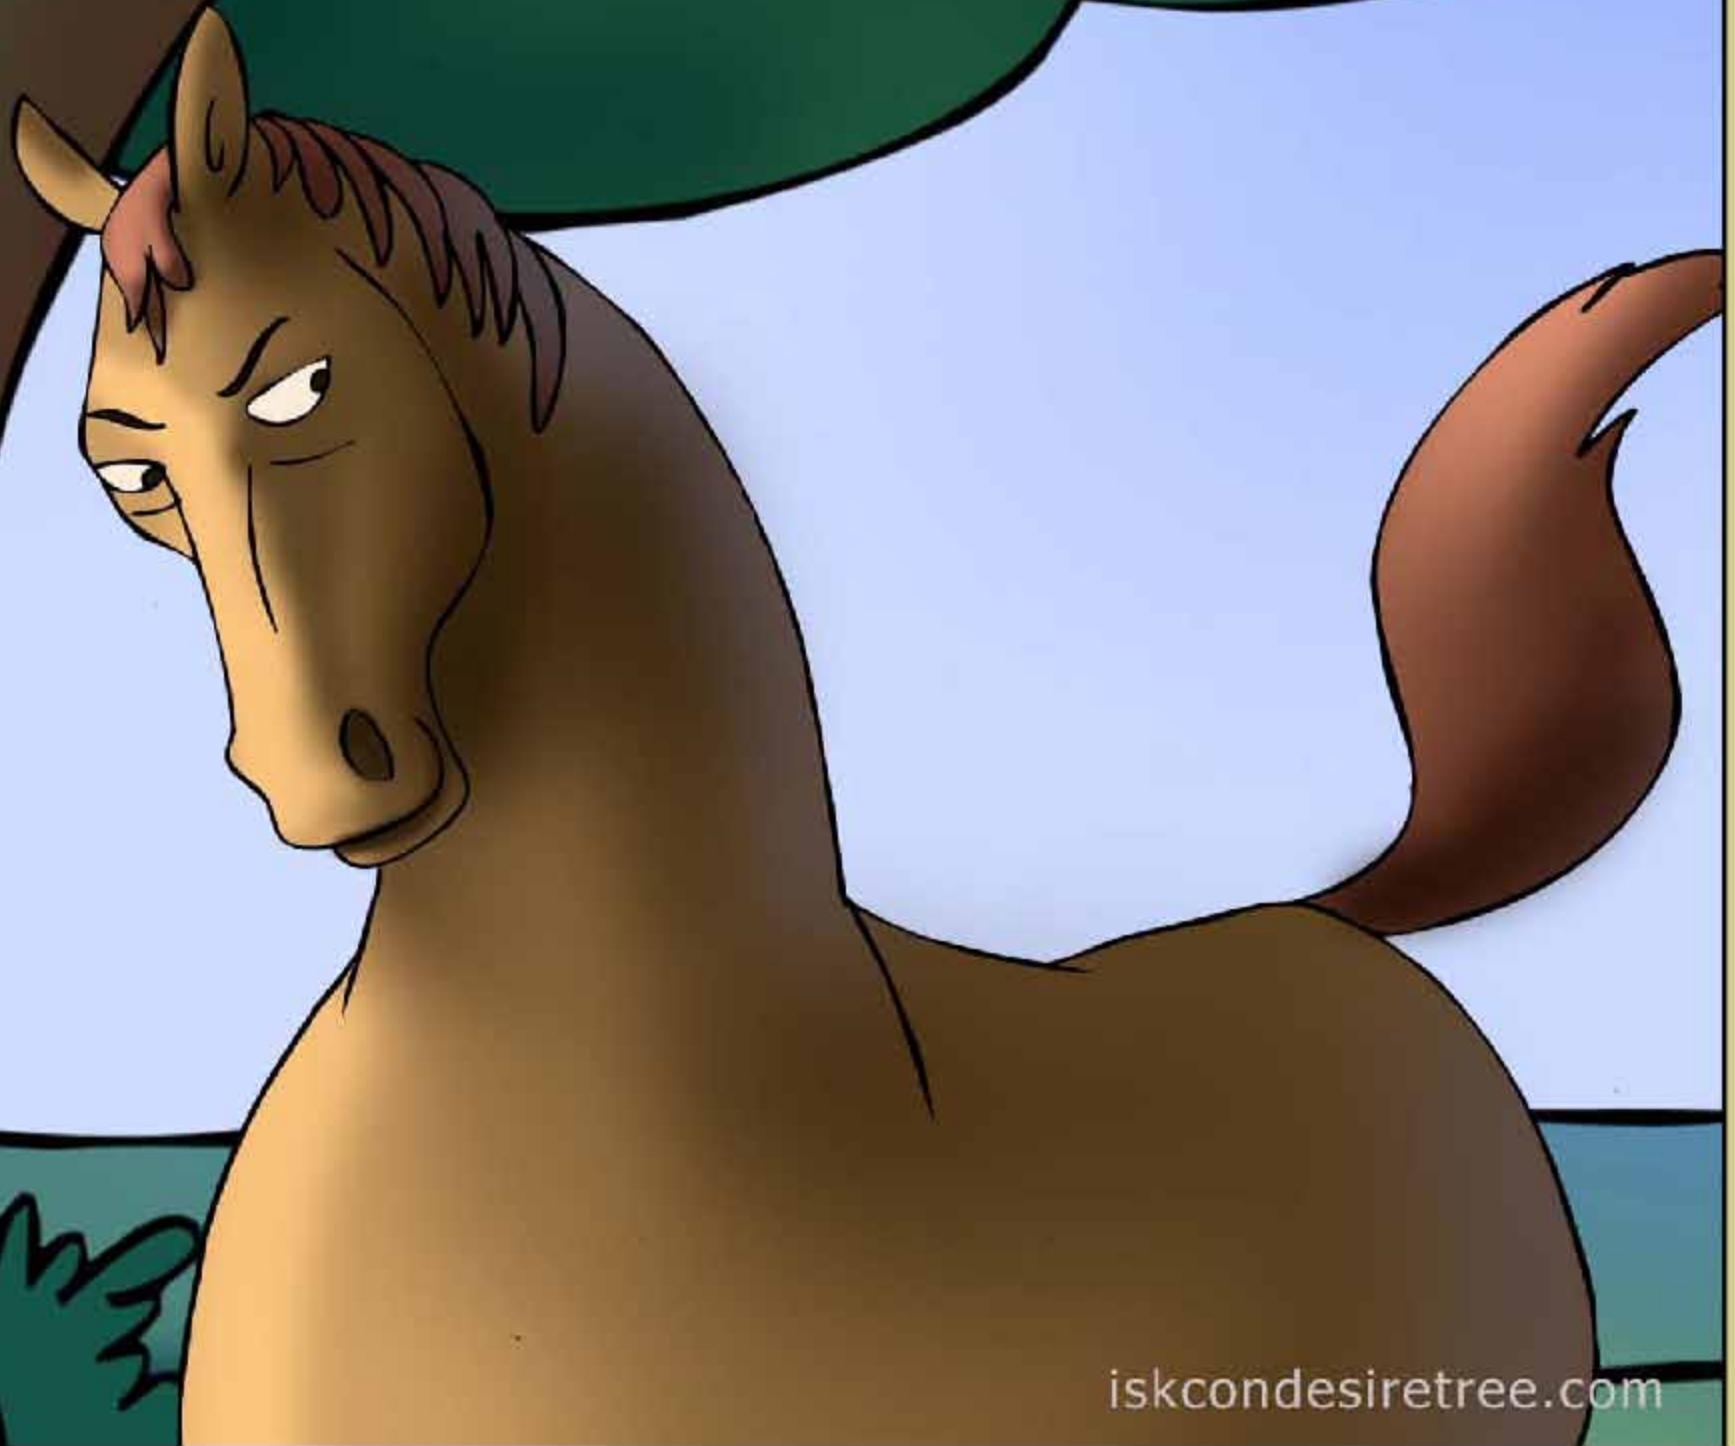

At that time, an elephant came there. He enjoys walking on such soft grass

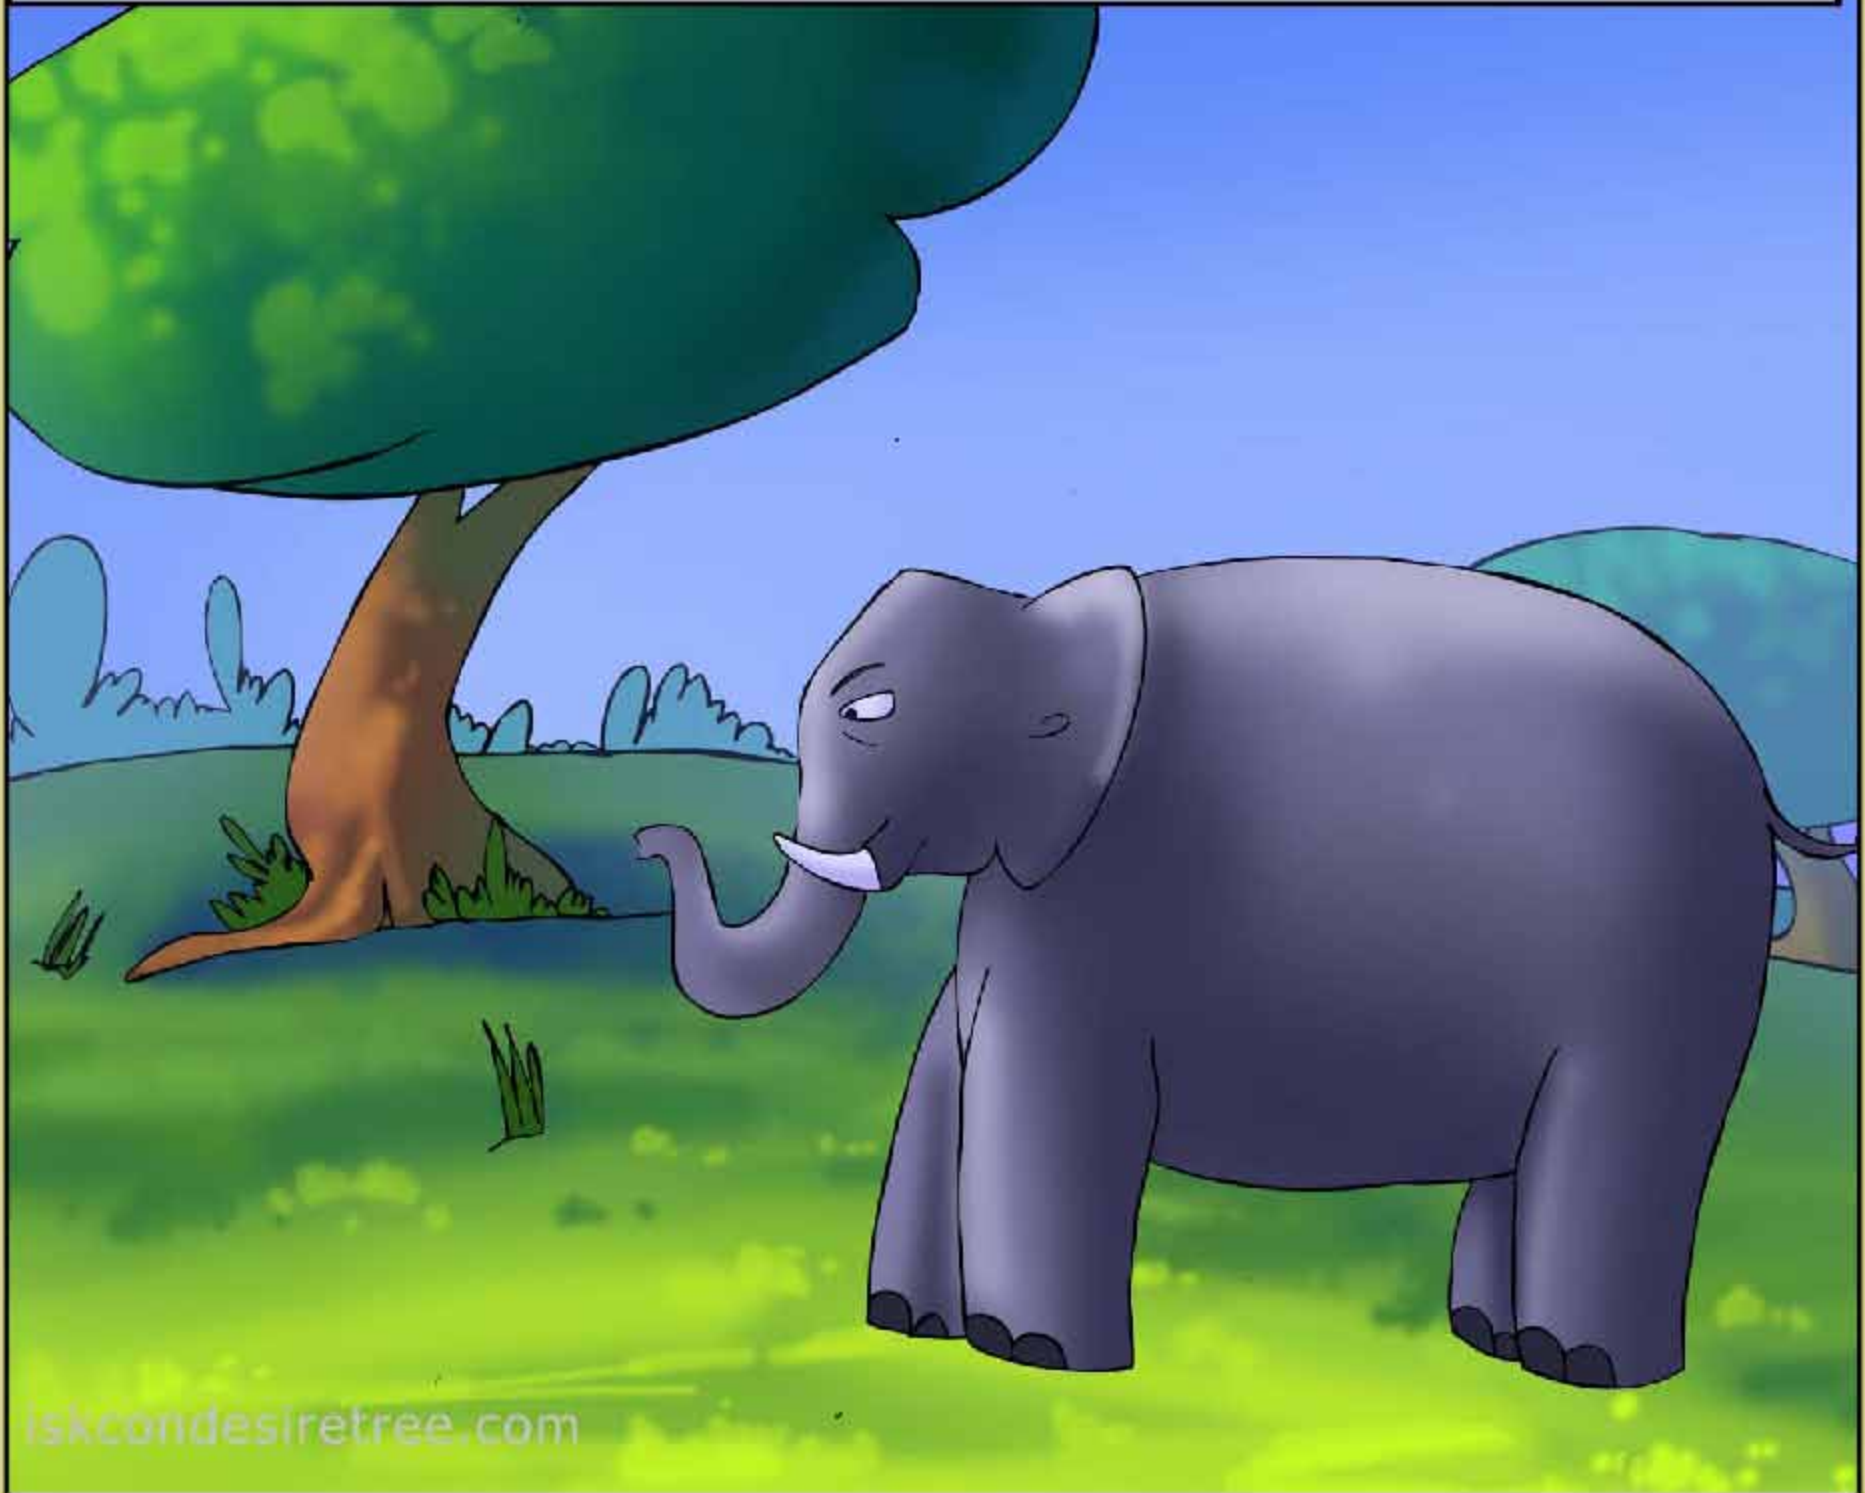

He would then roll over it and enjoy it

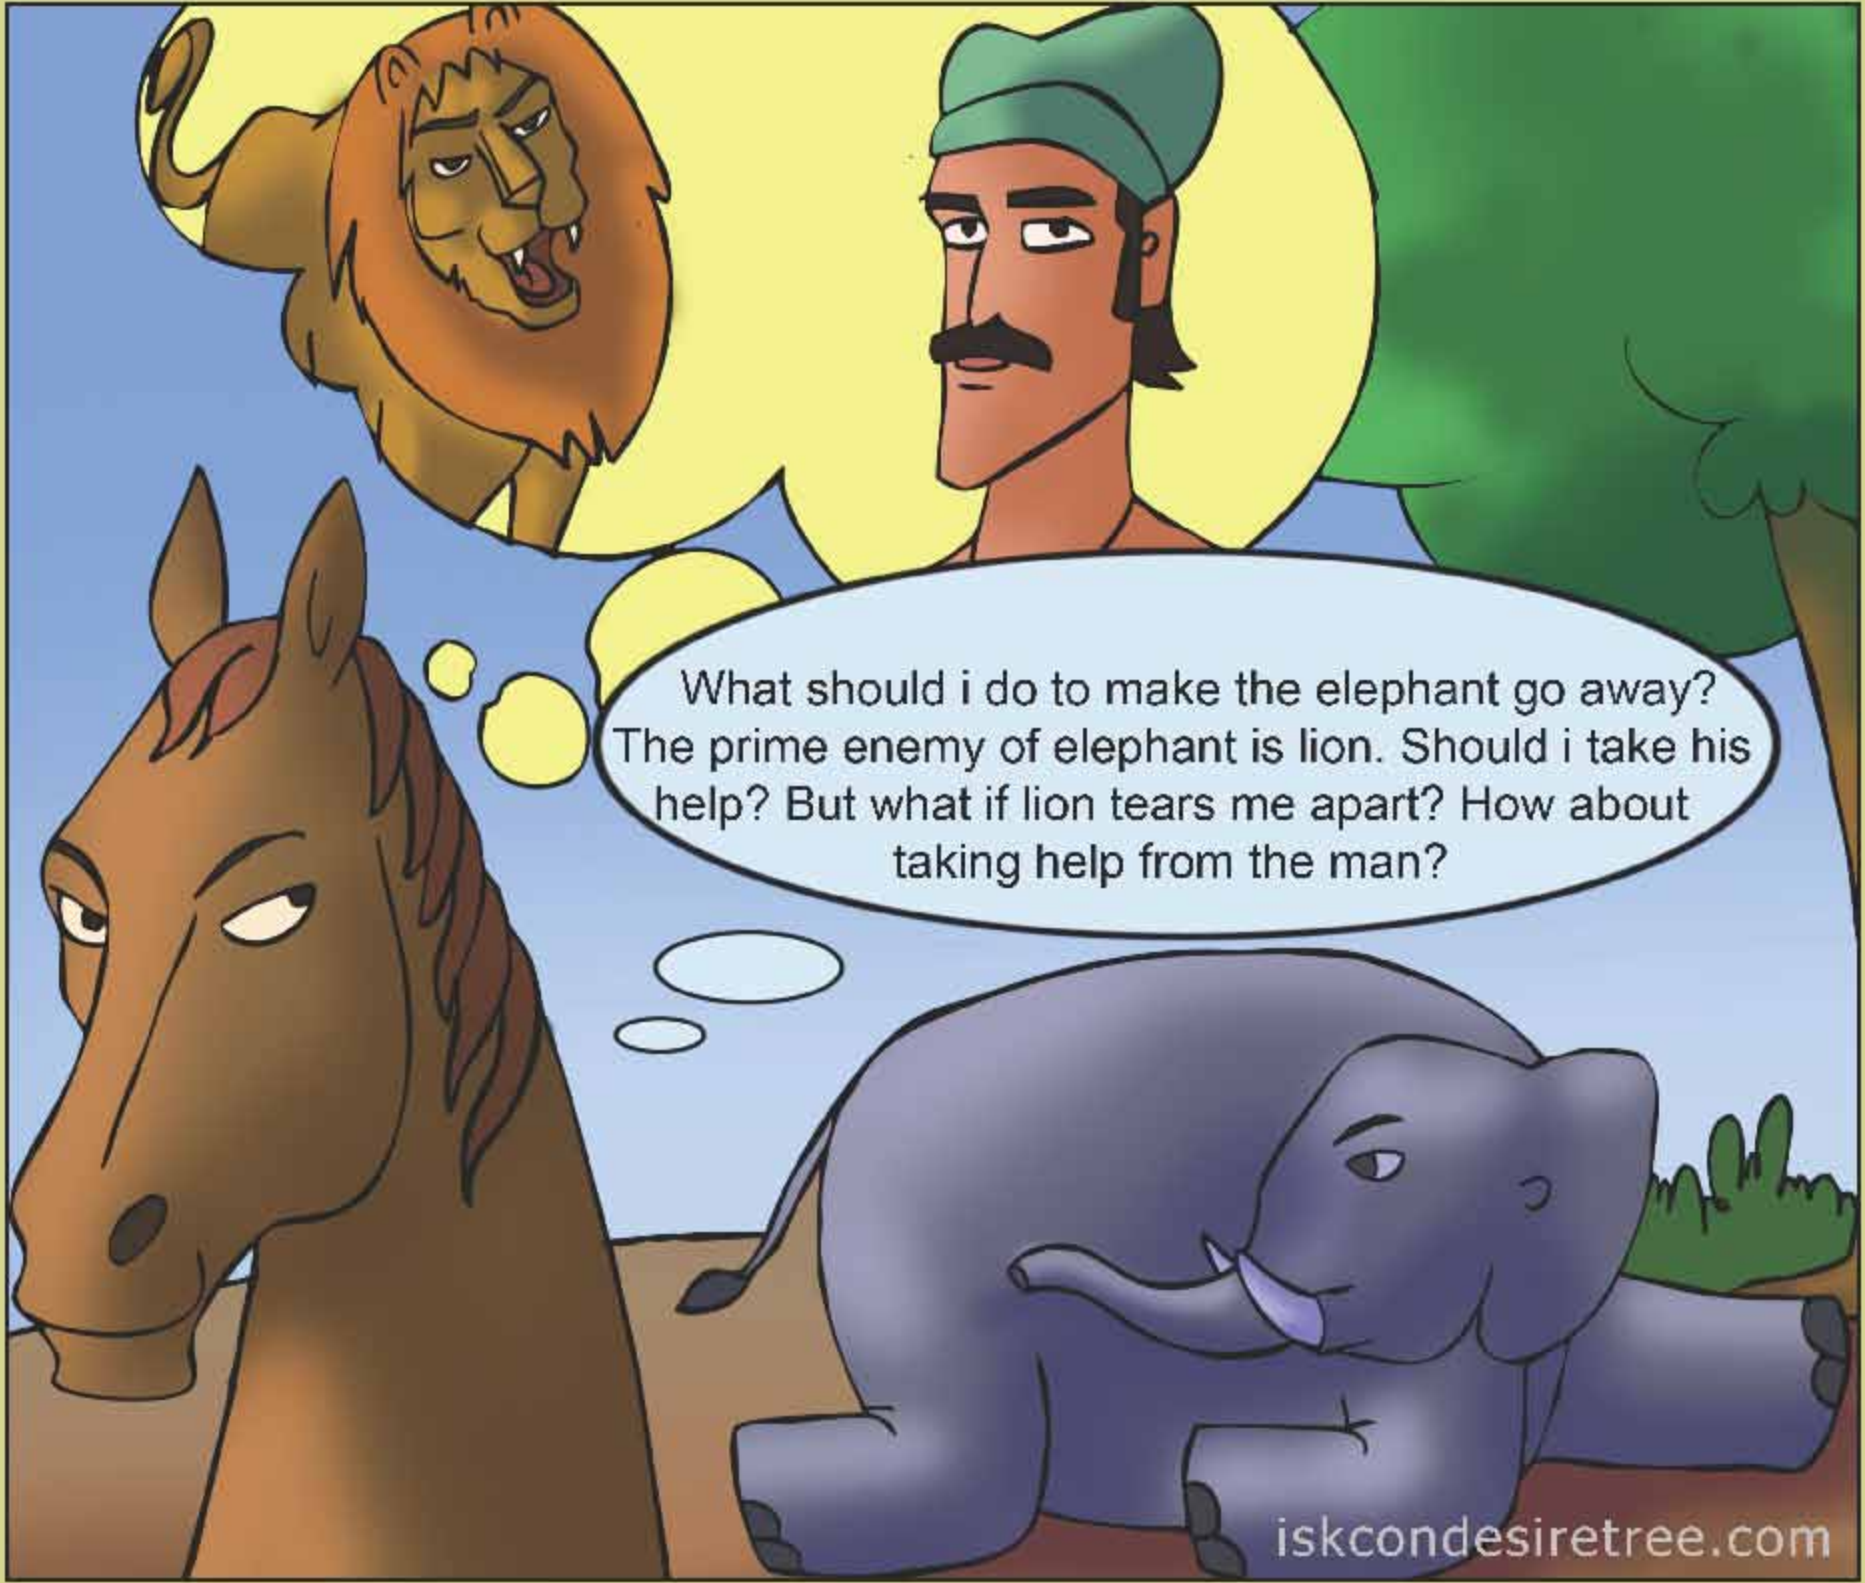

Seeing the grass being beaten up in such a way the horse felt sad

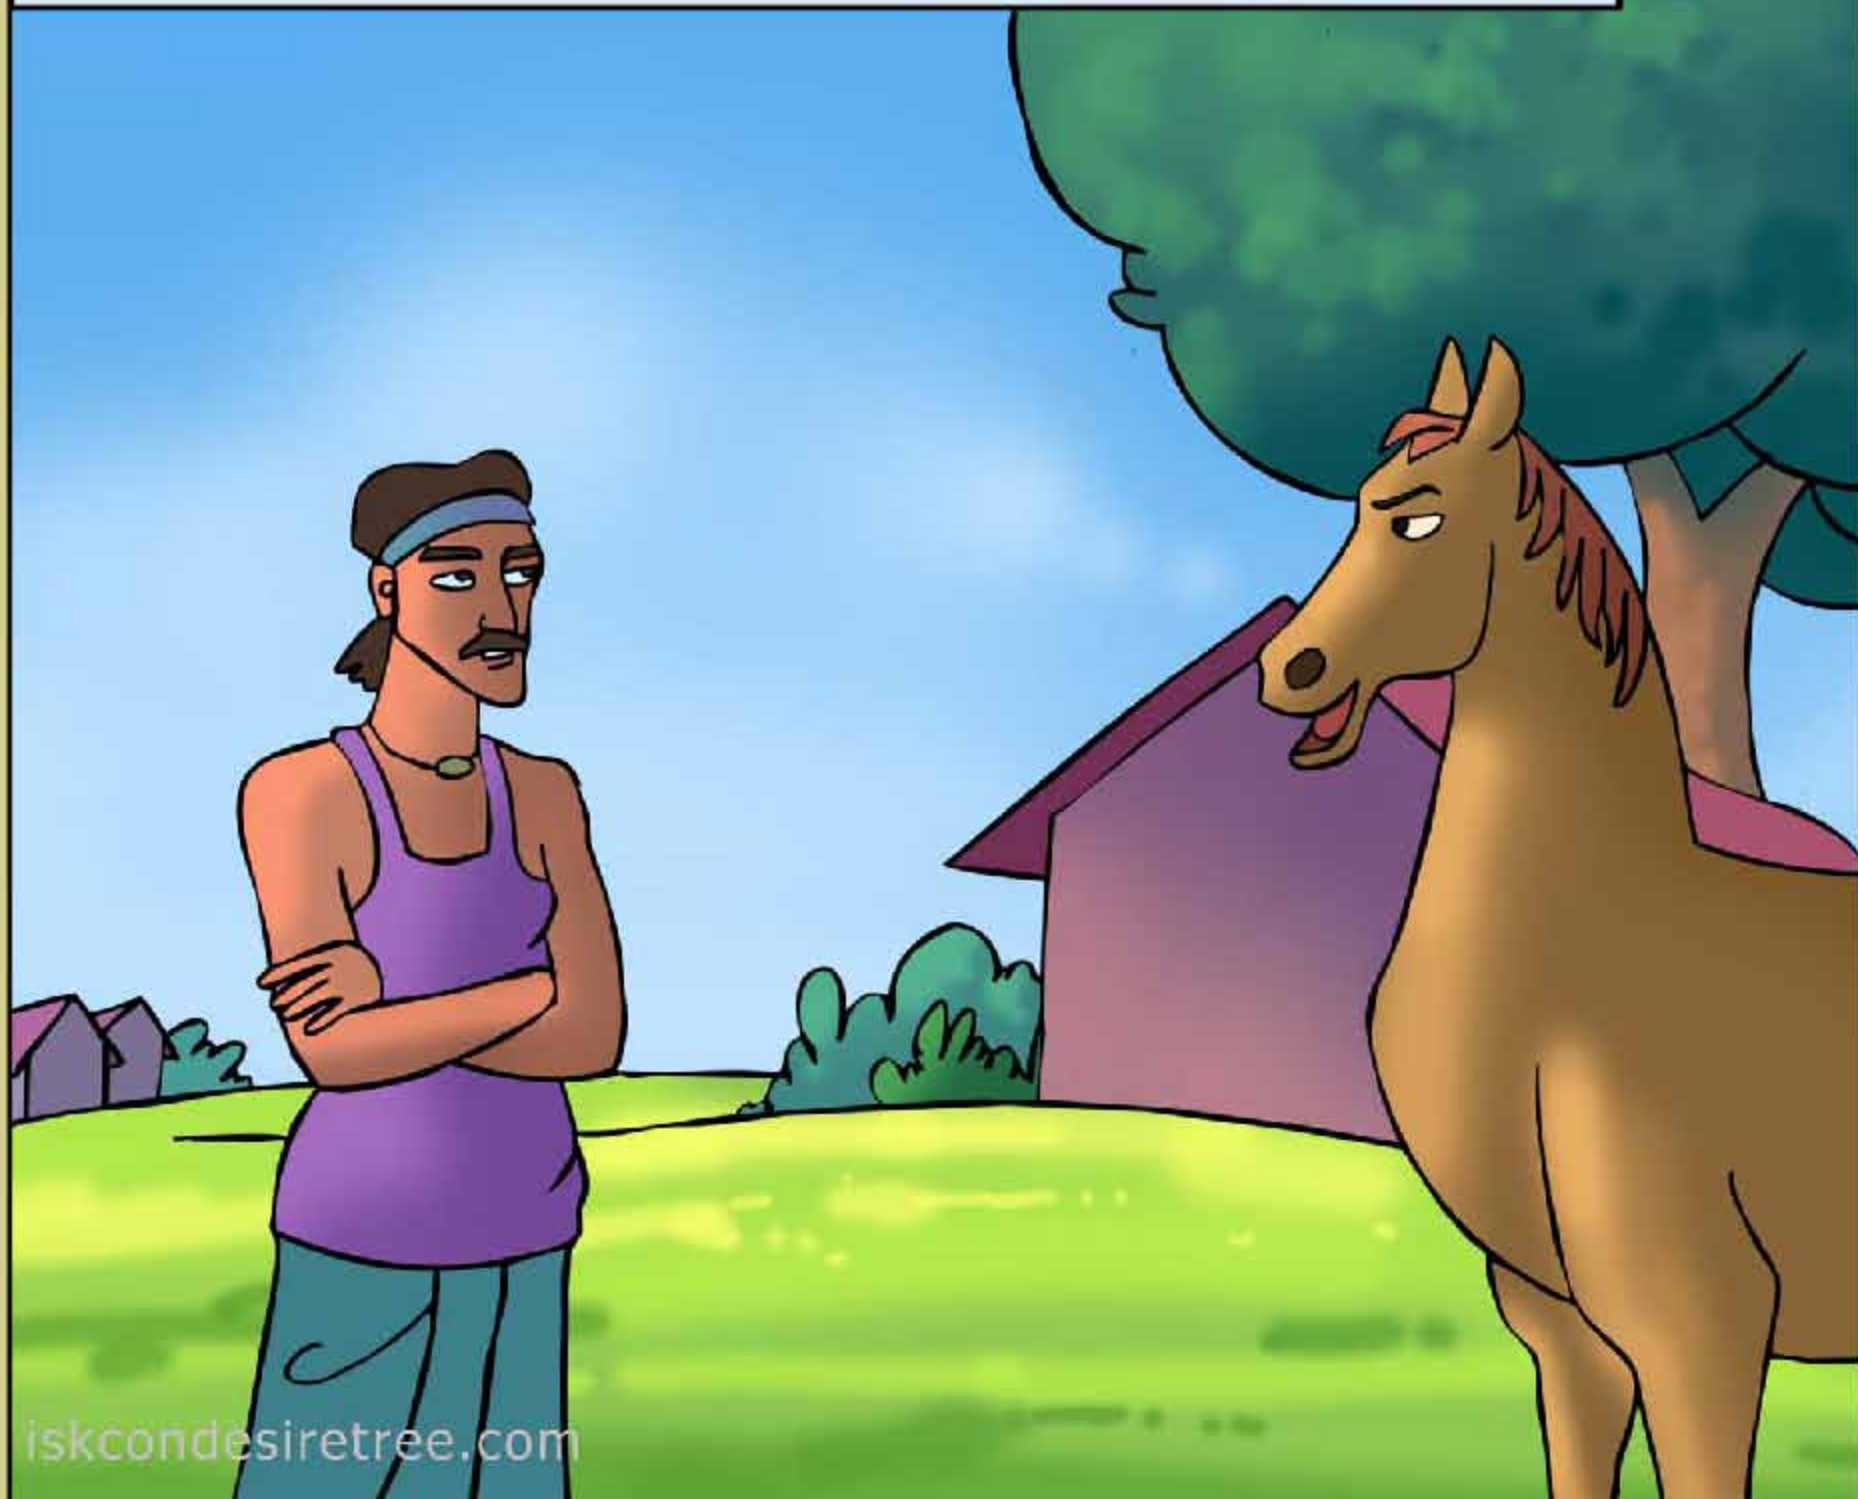

The elephant liked the place very much. Therefore he did not want to leave the place

What should i do to make the elephant go away?
The prime enemy of elephant is lion. Should i take his help? But what if lion tears me apart? How about taking help from the man?

The horse approached the man. Horse explained to him the entire episode

The elephant has to be killed. Is that all? I will do it but you have to help me. If elephant runs away to save his life i will have to follow him. For that, i will have to ride on you Enthusiastically, the horse said....

If the elephant will die, then i shall do whatever you say

Therefore the man built a seat on the horse's back and put reins on his mouth

He took a bow and poisonous arrows. He sat on the horse

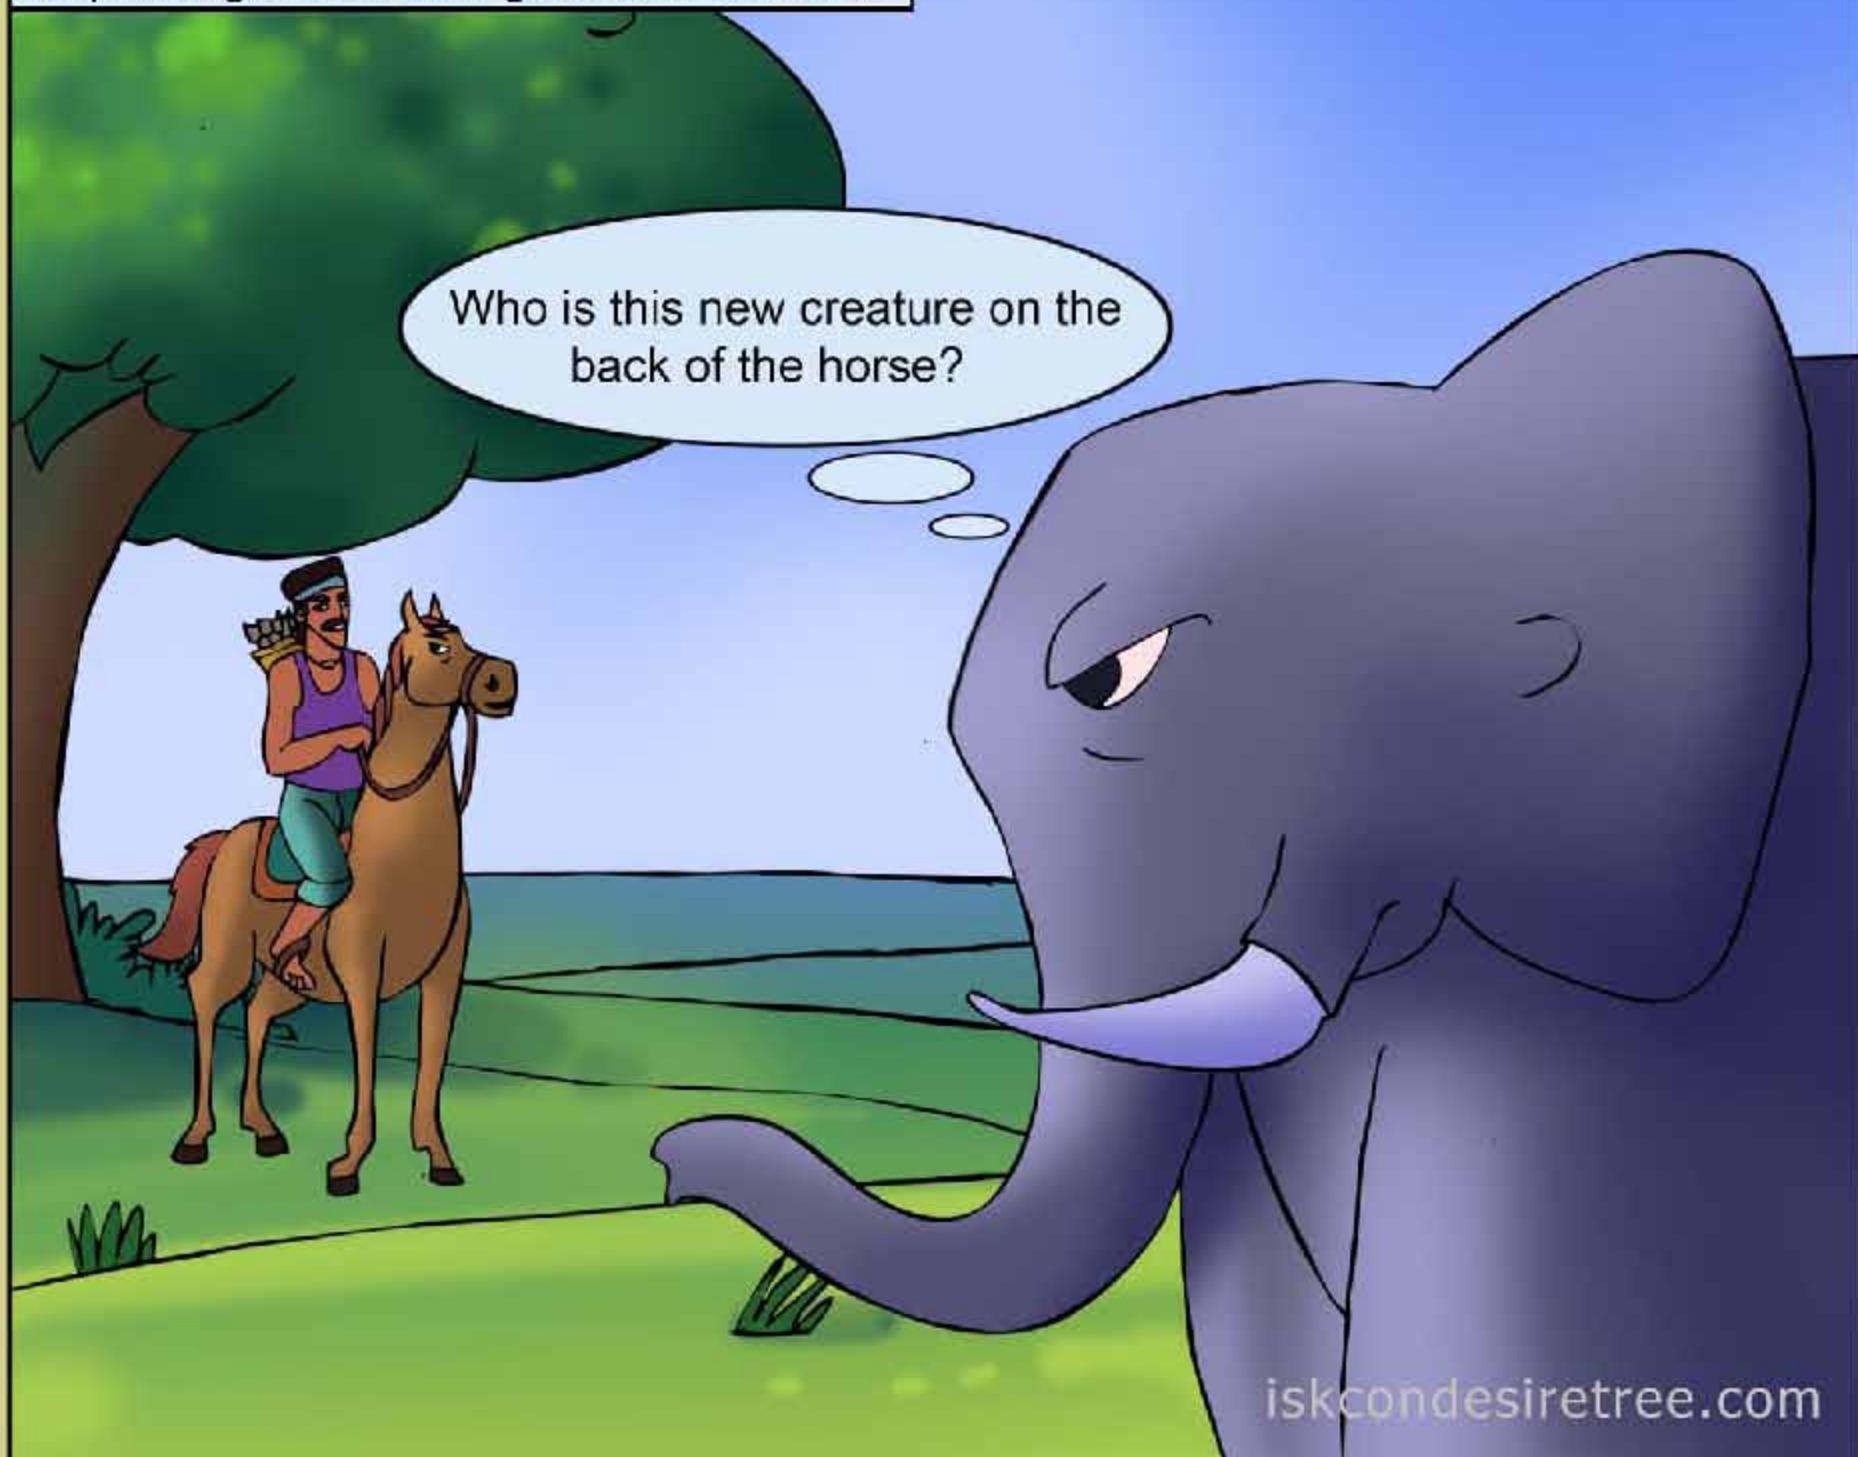

He rode on the horse. The man enjoyed riding on a horse

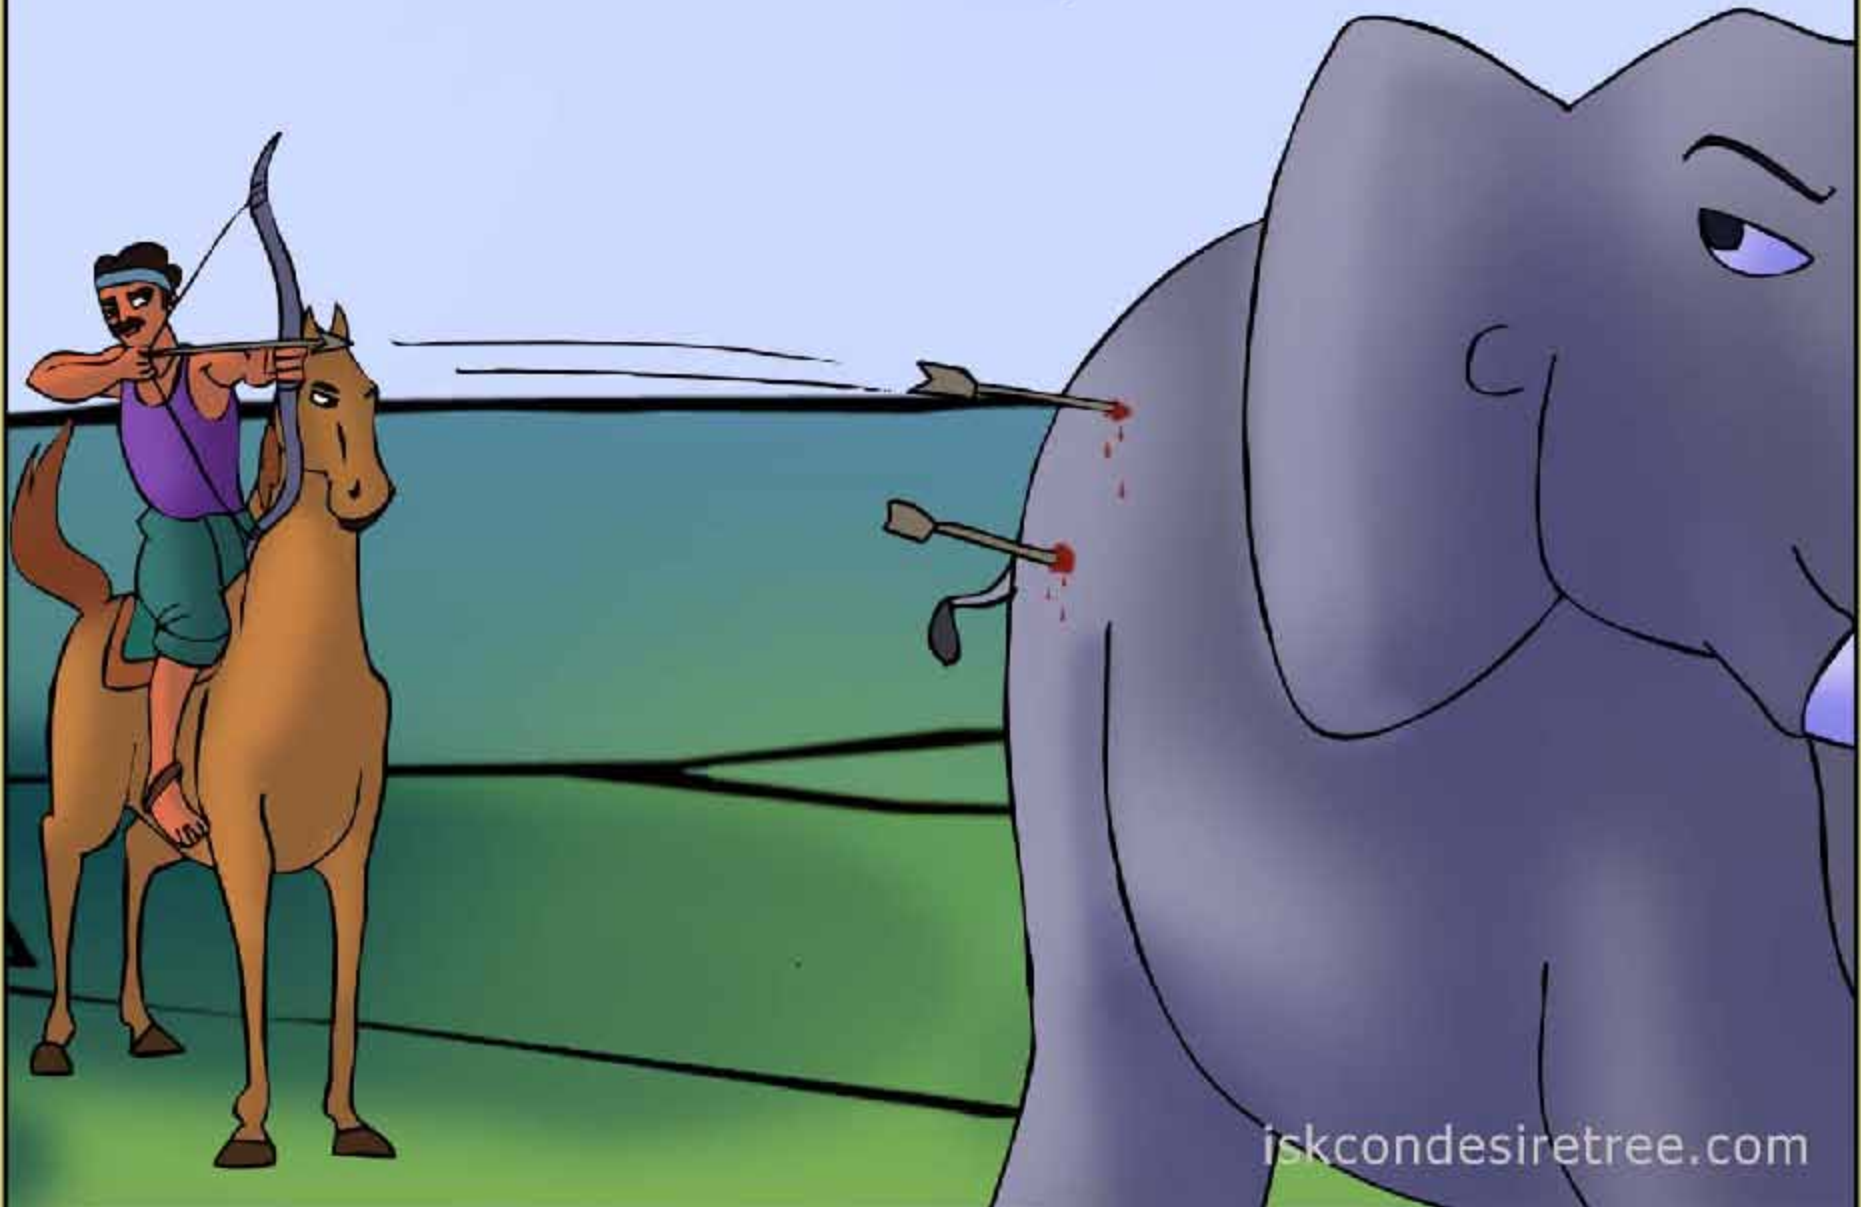

After sometime, they reached there. The elephant glanced with great amazement

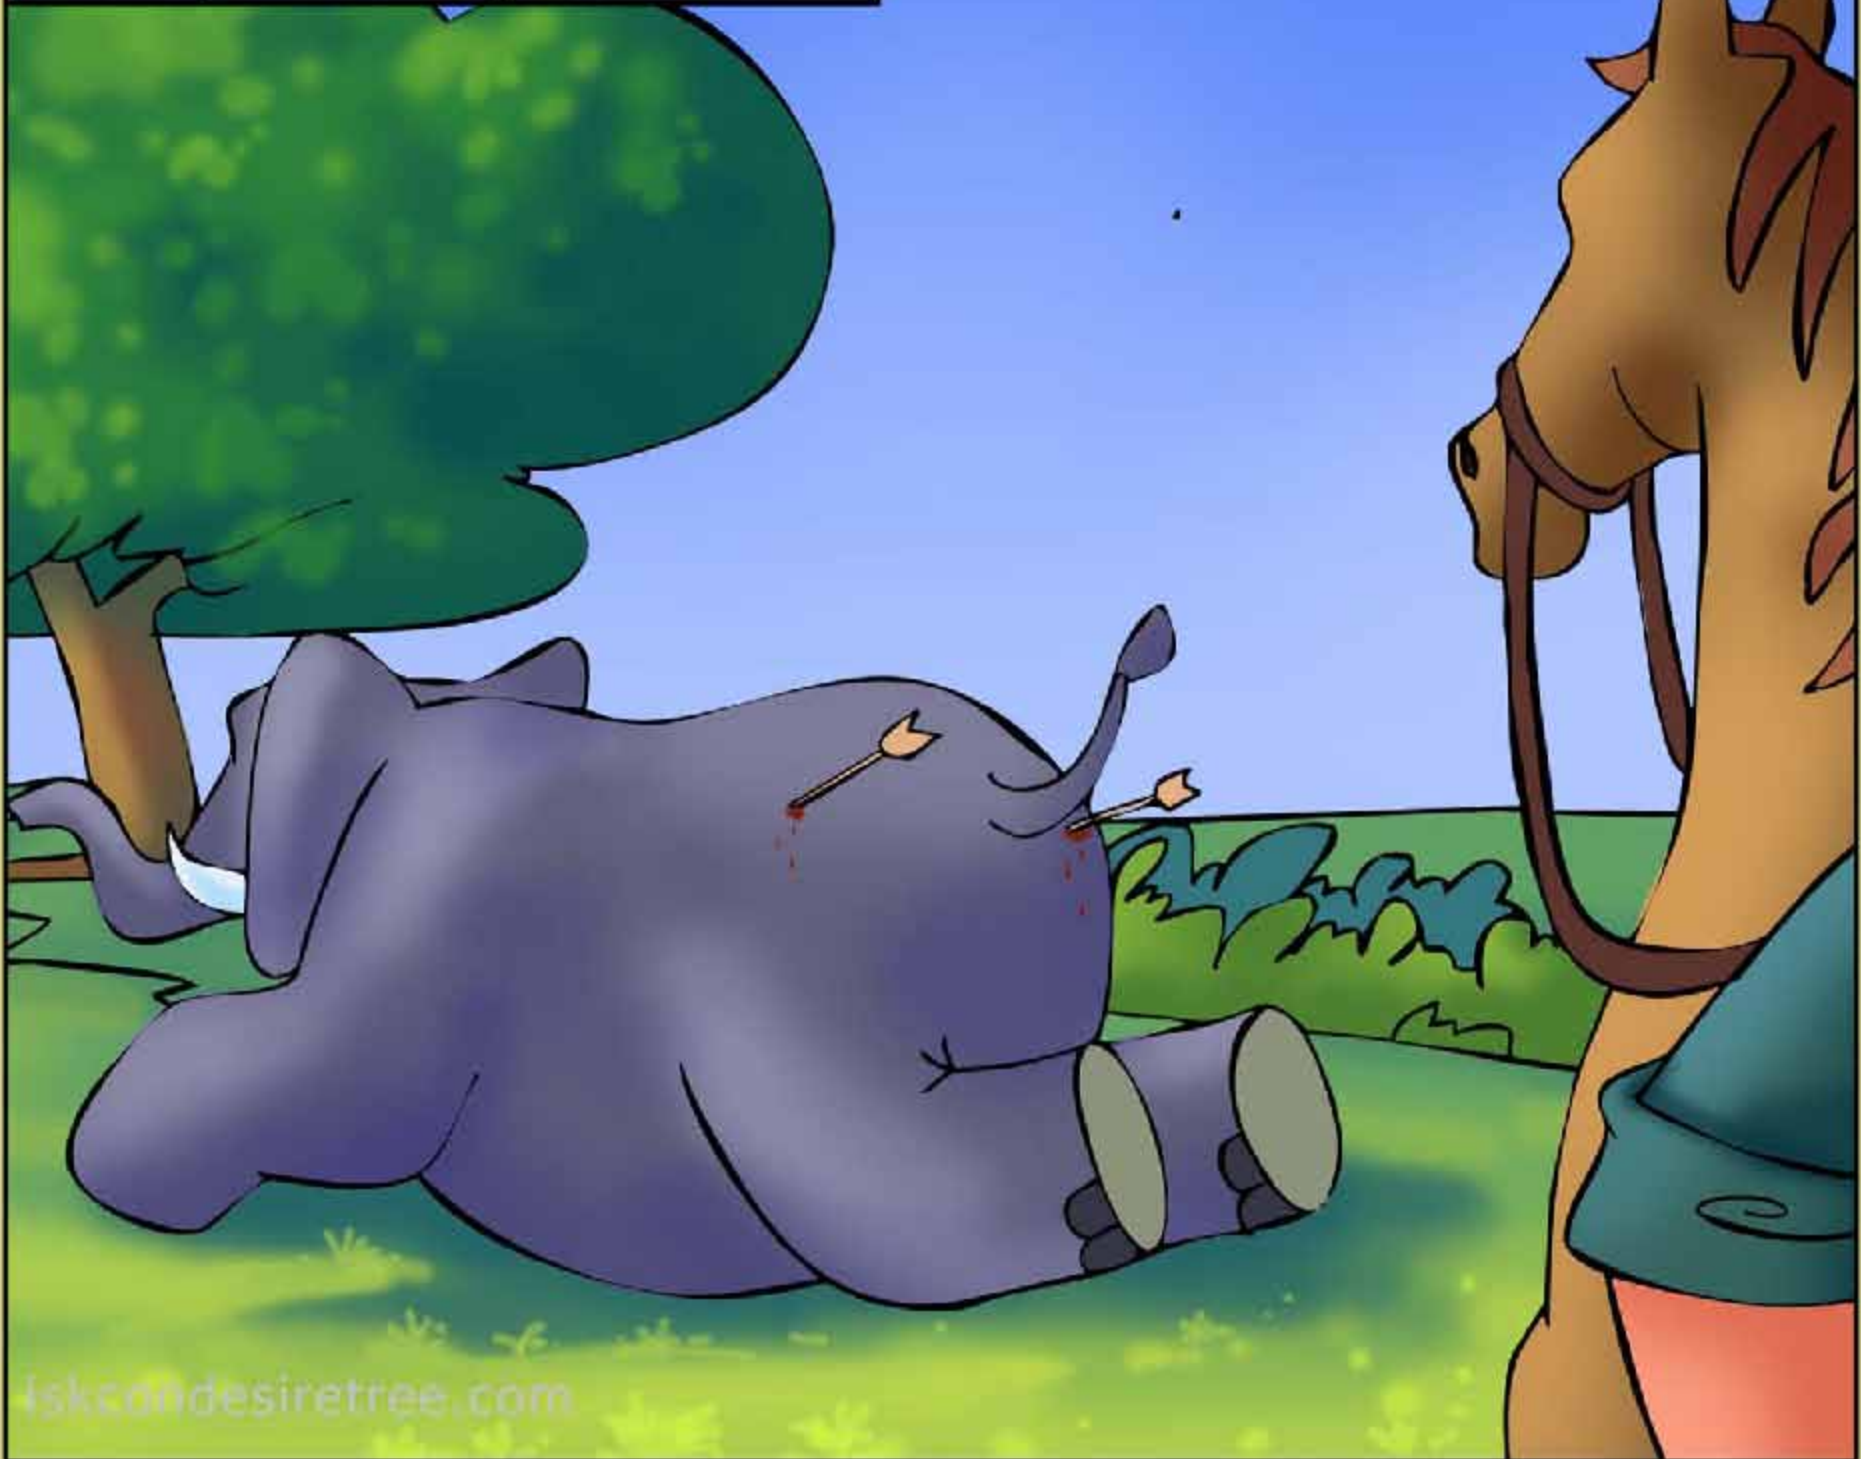

Who is this new creature on the back of the horse?

Suddenly the man shot poisonous arrows on the elephant. As soon as the arrows touched the elephant, he began to run in all directions

But at the end, he collapsed. Due to the effect of poison the elephant lost his life

O friend, i am grateful to you

Now our work is complete. You can get down. Kindly remove your seat and reins and free me

Hearing this, the man laughed loudly and said....

It is better if you give up the desire to become free

From then onwards, the horse became the slave of man

iskcondesiretree.com

MORAL :

As you sow, so shall you reap