

KRISHNA

• • • The Enchanter

With naughty monkeys Krishna plays, with cows he spends his fun-filled days.

Oh! Krishna loves his cows, so dear,
By showing all planets in his mouth; in mother Yashoda he struck bewildering fear.

Ever eager Radharani is, to hear the sweet melody of Krishna's flute, Radhe Shyam swinging together; Oh! they look so cute.

Oh! How enchanting is the peacock and Krishna's dance,
To eat yummy butter with his friends; Krishna just waits for a chance.

Sitting on the tree, his aim is to break the pot,
Cleverly he runs behind the Gopis; lest he gets caught.
