

Poor Communication

Poor communication between husband and wife is one of the main causes of disharmony. Husband/wife may act in a particular way with good intention but the partner resents it...

... because the purpose behind the action has not been communicated or not communicated well in time. At other times husband/wife may care for the partner but they are not able to communicate feelings.

Suresh has undergone financial setback in his business but has not communicated it to his wife Surekha.

Can you give me some extra money this month?

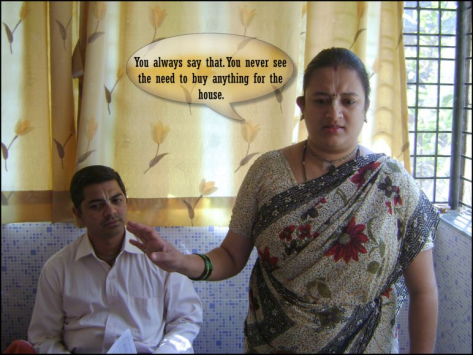

A woman in a floral saree is standing and talking to a man in a white shirt who is sitting on a blue and white tiled bench. She is pointing towards a window with yellow curtains. A speech bubble above her contains the text: "I need to buy some curtains for the house."

I need to buy some curtains for the house.

No, the old curtains are good enough.

The man is wearing a white button-down shirt and has a serious expression. The background features yellow curtains with a floral pattern and a window with a grid pattern on the right. A speech bubble is positioned above the woman, containing text.

You always say that. You never see the need to buy anything for the house.

You women just think about buying this and that.

There is never an end
to your needs.

I don't understand what is your problem. Everytime I ask you for money,
you crib.

A woman in a floral saree is talking to a man in a white shirt. The man has a white tilak on his forehead and is looking down with a serious expression. The woman is looking at him with a concerned expression. A speech bubble is positioned between them, containing text.

I don't know what you do with the money
and for whom you are earning.
I would have been better off
if I had not given up my job...

If the husband had explained his financial problem to his wife and not argued, maybe she would have been more understanding and helped him.
