

Disrespecting

Devotee

ISKCON DESIRE TREE.COM

Satyanarayana prabhu and Sunny prabhu are staying together along with the group of other devotees, just to have the rich association and the experience of staying with the devotees, but some time due to false pride and ego we fail to understand the importance of associating with the devotees and forget the purpose of our goal and land up offending each other on petty things

Satyanarayan prabhu was chanting his last around and found that Sunny prabhu is in the study room working with the computer late night which was against the rules. The devotees just for the ease had made certain rules to follow which will help them to practice and focus on their sadhana , other wise what is the difference between a karmi and a devotee.

A man in a white kurta and gold chain stands on the left, gesturing with his hands while talking to a man sitting at a computer workstation on the right. The man at the computer is seen from the back, focused on his work. In the background, another man is visible at a computer. A red speech bubble is overlaid on the image, containing text.

Sunny
prabhu what are you doing till late night... its already 10:30 P.M. Don't you know that lights should go off by 9:00 P.M.

If you sleep late you will miss the morning program and you won't complete your chanting in the morning which will spoil you consciousness for the whole day...

...and than you have your rounds pending till late nights thereby affecting your sadhana for the next day creating a vicious cycle.

Actually
Prabhu I have my exams
tommorrow

Big test
from 2:15
compulsory
you have to

A man in a white shirt is standing and talking to another man who is sitting at a desk with a computer. A red speech bubble is overlaid on the image, containing text. In the background, a large mirror reflects the man in the white shirt. The scene appears to be in a classroom or office setting.

Which
exam? I know its your another excuse to bunk the morning program.

Prabhu if you think I am lying then come with me tommorrow and give exam with me...

Hm..uh, I know
you very well... I am telling you again if you want to stay with us then you will have to follow the rules other wise you will have to leave this place...

Prabhu I didn't expect this from you. My problem is genuine and I am not giving any excuses. Though you are senior to me you don't have any manners to speak

Hari bol! Just because I am liberal to you doesn't mean you speak to me like that ...

This is too much I knew it from the start that you don't like me and out of envy you treat me like this...

Is this the way you behave with your senior, it seems you don't have any Vaishnav etiquette , I think I should teach you some Vaishnava etiquette first...

Haribol !
because you are a devotee I am
tolerating you
otherwise you don't know who was I in karmi world...

even karmis
don't treat their enemies in this way...#%#

we will speak to the authority
about this ...

We should be polite and exemplary while dealing with a junior devotee ... similarly Not feeling happy by seeing our seniors is also a Vaishnava offence. we should never correct a devotee unless we have the authority or we develop some relationship with the devotee. At the same time we should be humble enough when meeting a senior devotee.
